WILL OF MORGAN IS MADE PUBLIC

An Extraordinary Utterance, Showing Religious Side of Great Financier.

COMMITS SOUL TO SAVIOUR

Vast Estate Not Specifically Devised —Provision for Art Treasures —Public Charities to be Continued—Other Items

New York, April 19.—"I commit my soul into the hands of my Saviour, in full confidence that having redeemed it and washed it in his most precious blood, he will present it faultless before the throne of my Heavenly Father; and I entreat my children to maintain and defend, at all hazard and at any cost of personal sacrifice, the blessed doctrine of the complete atonement for sin through the blood of Jesus Christ, once offered, and through that alone."

This is the extraordinary and striking utterance which begins the last will and testament of John Pierpont Morgan, who died at Rome on March 31st, last, whose body, heaped over with flowers from the crowned heads of Europe, was a fortnight later, brought back to his own land and last Monday was borne to its last resting place at Hartford.

Ever since the funeral the publication of the great financier's last will has been awaited with keen expectation and it is safe to say that of all the interesting testaments of eminent citizens of America, that of Mr. Morgan, to be offered for probate here Monday morning, is by far the most interesting.

As to the amount of the estate, which is one of the first questions the public naturally is asking, there is nothing in the will to give any accurate idea and the executors declare that no announcement will be made on this point until the appraisal has been made for determining the State inheritance tax.

The amount of bequests and trusts, named by specific sums, is under twenty million dollars but the entire residue of the estate is left to J. P. Morgan, Jr., who is designated by his father to become the chief heir not only to his fortune but to his many charitable and artistic activities.

As to the amount itself it is unusual in many of its features and, according to those two or three intimate friends who already have had a glimpse of it, it is a portrait of Mr. Morgan himself, beginning with the striking confession of his religious (a side of his character which was known to his close associates, but not to the world) and running through all its 37 articles, duly set forth in the same logical and orderly fashion which his friends say marked all Mr. Morgan's mental process. He has apparently provided with painstaking care for every contingency that might affect his family or his banking firm and to his executors, namely, his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., his two sons-in-law, William Pearson Hamilton and H. L. Satterlee, and his friend Lewis Cass Ledyard, he gives careful directions under many clauses as to alternate courses of procedure. It is to be noted also that his grandson, Junius Spencer Morgan, Jr., a young man of only 21, now a student at Harvard, is repeatedly nominated to take up important duties in the event of the death of his father, John P. Morgan, Jr.

In this city, the question most frequently asked by leading citizens and learned societies has been that as to the disposition of Mr. Morgan's wonderful collection of pictures and other art treasures.

Mr. Morgan makes perfectly plain what his own hopes on this point have been, and yet leaves his son, who is his residuary legate, entire freedom in the matter, using the following significant language:

"I have been greatly interested for many years in gathering my collections of paintings, miniatures, porcelains and other works of arts and it has been my desire and intention to make some suitable disposition of them or of such portion of them as I might determine, which would render them permanently available for the instruction and pleasure of the American people. Lack of the necessary time to devote to it has as yet prevented my carrying this purpose into effect. Unless I shall accomplish it or make some disposition of these collections in my lifetime, they will pass to my son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., or to his son, Junius Spencer Morgan, Jr., under the foregoing clauses of this will whereby I dispose of my residuary estate. Should either my said son or my said grandson thus succeed to the ownership of these collections I hope he will be able, in such manner as he shall think best, to make a permanent disposition of them, or of such portions of them as he may determine which will be a substantial carrying out of the intentions which I have thus cherished. It would be agreeable to me to have the Morgan memorial which forms a portion of the property of the Wadsworth Athenaum at Hartford, Conn., utilized to effectuate part of this purpose. I do not, however, by the expression of these wishes, intend to impose upon my said son or my said grandson any duty or obligation, legal or moral, nor to qualify in any manner or in any degree his absolute and unqualified ownership of said collections should they pass to him under this will."

The public charitable bequests are, as was predicted by many of those conversant with his immense benefactions, made during his lifetime comparatively small and are in the direction of those objects to which Mr. Morgan's benefactions are already well known. For instance, in the case of the great lying-in hospital in New York, to which Mr. Morgan gave over a million and a quarter of dollars, he uses the following language:

"Without imposing any duty, trust or obligation upon my residuary legate I request he continue, so long as in his judgment the same shall be necessary for its support, the same assistance which I have been in the habit of giving during my life to the society of the lying-in hospital of the city of New York."

This annual gift here alluded to is known as having been $100,000.

It is worthy of note that the will was executed as lately as January 4th, last, and a codicil was attached in January 6th, only the day before Mr. Morgan took leave of America on the trip abroad, from which he never returned.

The will gives to his executors the following:

"Full power and authority to recognize and pay as among such debts and promise or obligation made by me, verbally or otherwise, which although not in such form that the holder could compel payment thereof by my estate, my executors think proper to be paid in their judgment or because from memoranda or verbal directions left by me or from other sources they are satisfied that it would be my wish to have paid."

The disposition of the estate then follows, the first provision being that for his own family. To his "beloved wife, Francis Louisa Tracy Morgan" the income for life of a trust fund of one million dollars with power to dispose of the capital by will.

Mr. Morgan is already entitled to the income of a trust fund created by Junius Spencer Morgan (Mr. Morgan's father) by deed dated July 1st, 1867. The will provides that she is now to receive for life the income of an additional trust of such amount that her total income from these two trusts shall (aside from the income of the one million dollar fund) amount to $100,000 a year. Mrs. Morgan also receives during her life "Cragston," the Morgan country place, at Highland Falls, N. Y., and also the Morgan home, at No. 219 Madison avenue, New York, together with the furniture.

John Pierpont Morgan, Jr., receives an outright legacy of $3,000,000. The dead financier's two married daughters, respectively, Louisa, the wife of Herbert L. Satterlee, and Juliet, the wife of William P. Hamilton, receive each the income for life from a trust fund of $3,000,000. Upon the death of these daughters these funds are to go to their children, but each daughter is given power "to dispose of said sum of $3,000,000 by will among her issue in such shares or proportions and on such lawful trusts as she may think proper."

The third daughter, Miss Annie Tracey Morgan, likewise receives for life the income from a trust fund of $3,000,000 and in the event of her marrying and having heirs the same provisions hold good as apply to her elder sisters. In case of her death without children she may bequeath to her husband out of the trust fund $1,000,000.

Mr. Morgan's two sons-in-law, William Pierson Hamilton and Herbert Livingston Satterlee, receive each an outright legacy of $1,000,000. A special provision for his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., is that all "my right, title and interest as patron or fellow in perpetuity in the Metropolitan museum of art in the city of New York, and in the American Museum of Natural History in said city, and all similar rights in other institutions of like character of which I may die possessed," be transferred to him.

To Jennie Bigelow Tracy (the widow of Mr. Morgan's brother-in-law, Charles Edward Tracy) is given the income for life of a trust of $1,000,000, the capital upon her death to go to the issue of Charles Edward Tracy. And to his two sisters-in-law, Clara Tracy Hoppin and Julia N. Brown, each the income for life from trust funds of $100,000 each, these funds to be bequeathed in turn, upon their death to the heirs of these relatives.

POPE'S BROTHER A VISITOR

Affecting Scene at Bedside of Pontiff—Condition of His Holiness Unchanged With No Recurrence of Fever.

Rome, April 19.—The visit to the Pope today of his brother, Angelo Sarto, postmaster of the village of Grazie, was one of the tenderest episodes of the sick room. There is a difference in age between them of only one year, but Angelo, with his robust frame seemed ten years younger than the Pope, who appeared thin, languid and pale.

The austere Marchiafava, who was present at the meeting declared that the scene was so touching that his own eyes were wet. The presence of the members of his family around him has inspired the Pope with new vigor and the bright sunshine flooding his room this morning, caused him to exclaim:

"On such a day as this I cannot imagine that any one could be ill."

Reports of the pontiff's condition tonight indicate that there has been no recurrence of unusual symptoms. It is pointed out that for four days practically no fever has been present and that the Pope is suffering only from spells of coughing which on occasions are somewhat exhausting.

The bronchial affection is diminishing. The patient, however, is weak and has periods of depression, but with increased ability to take nourishment, it is hoped that the Pope's strength will return and that soon he will be considered out of danger.

Frequently during the height of his illness the pulse ran above 100; it is now reported to be from 70 to 75.

Rumors of various conditions continue to be circulated and it has even been reported that Dr. Marchiafava and Dr. Amici have quarrelled over the case. One report had it that Dr. Amici insisted that the Pope should have last communion, but that Dr. Marchiafava opposed this to avoid the shock which this might cause the patient. This report is absurd as the Pope has taken communion every day since his illness began so that in the words of the pontiff himself: "Death will not find me unprepared."

ANTI-ALIEN LAW GIVING TROUBLE

Bryan Makes Known Position of the Washington Government.

THE EFFECT AT SACRAMENTO

More Conservative Legislation or Defeat of Proposed Bills Probable in California Legislature. Secretary's Telegram.

Washington, April 19.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, following the precedent of previous administrations, today made known their views on the international character of the legislation now pending in California by which Japs would be prevented from owning land in that State.

In a telegram to Governor Johnson, Secretary Bryan expressed the view of President Wilson that the California Assembly bill might be construed as a violation of treaty obligations with Japan while the Senate's measure as drawn would not be objectionable, if alien land legislation is to be enacted at all. In this the Federal government recognizes the sovereign right of California to legislate according to her own judgment, but today's message counseled caution.

The telegram and other information from official circles indicated clearly that the provisions in the assembly bill, by which aliens "ineligible to citizenship" would be prohibited from owning land were regarded here as a distinct discrimination against Japanese who at present are denied the right of naturalization. The language of the Senate bill restricting ownership of land to citizens of the United States "or aliens who have declared their intention of becoming citizens" is approved by the President and he has discovered that this is the phraseology of the statutes already in force in New York, Delaware, Minnesota, Kentucky, Washington, Missouri and the District of Columbia. Incidentally all these laws make it impossible for Japanese to own land until they are able to declare their intention of becoming citizens, a privilege which the lower courts thus far have not given them on the ground that they were not "of white or African descent."

Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, today had a long conference about the situation with Secretary Bryan.

Defeat Probable.

Sacramento, Cal., April 19.—The defeat of proposed alien land legislation in California may result from the diplomatic communication received today by Governor Johnson from the State Department at Washington. Secretary Bryan's expression of preference for a particular bill cut straight across the ranks of the anti-alien forces, leaving two opposing factions that are not only about equal in strength but also non-partisan. Whether either will be able to muster 21 votes in the Senate where the fight now is centered, is admitted by both sides to be doubtful.

A telegram to Governor Johnson from Secretary Bryan giving the views of the Federal administration on the pending alien land laws in the California legislature is as follows:

"Washington, April 19.—Governor Hiram Johnson, Sacramento, Cal.

"The President desires me to say that while he fully recognizes the right of the people of California to legislate according to their judgment on the subject of land tenure, he feels it his duty to urge a recognition of the international character of such legislation.

"Being anxious to preserve and strengthen the long standing friendly relations existing between this country and the Nations of the Orient, he very respectfully, but most earnestly advises against the use of the words 'ineligible to citizenship.' He asks that you bring this view to the attention of the Legislature. He believes the Senate bill, as telegraphed to the Department of State, is greatly to be preferred. That bill limited ownership to citizens and to those who had declared their intention to become citizens. "W. J. BRYAN."

The message was read in both houses and ordered printed in the journals without discussion.

CARL NELMS RUNS AMUCK.

Shoots at George Clark and Mrs. E. T. Rayner; Locked Up.

About 11 o'clock last night Carl P. Nelms, after declaring his intention of going to the home of Mrs. E. T. Rayner, on Harnett street, between Fourth and Fifth, and shooting her, it is said, departed in that direction. Her cousin, George Clark, heraing of his threats, went there also, and when Nelms saw him, he shot at him, but missed. Mrs. Rayner seems to have been outside the house, and ran inside on seeing Nelms, whereupon the latter shot through the window at her, and then tried to force the door, splitting it. Later Mrs. Rayner went to police headquarters and swore out a warrant for forcible trespass and also for assault with a deadly weapon; and Clark swore out a similar warrant. Officers J. A. Tew and S. H. Fulford arrested Nelms and took him to headquarters where he was locked up.

THREE KILLED, SCORE INJURED

Premature Explosion of Dynamite on Panama Canal Construction Carries Death to Laborers. Probable Cause.

Panama, April 19.—A premature explosion of dynamite occurred this afternoon between the Pedro Miguel locks and the Miraflores locks of the Panama Canal.

Three men were killed and 23 wounded. Twenty-one thousand pounds of dynamite filling 96 drill holes "let go" from some unknown cause. The electric wires were not attached and the only explanation seems to be that a sulphur formation had generated heat. The explosion occurred just at the moment when firemen had been notified that everything was ready for the blast. Casualties were confined to laborers from the West Indies and nearby places.

WHITEVILLE NOTES

Supprise Marriages — Killing Near Chadbourn—Personal Items

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., April 19.—The many friends of Mr. J. L. Patterson, who formerly lived here but who is now located at Thomasville, Ga., were greatly surprised Thursday when he arrived here with his bride. It had been thought that Mr. Patterson was a confirmed bachelor, and so he was until about 3 months ago when he went to a hospital at Thomasville to be treated for a severe wound. While there he was fortunate enough to have a sweet and gentle nurse to care for him.

Cupid soon made his appearance and the result was a love game which was closed this week when the happy couple were united in marriage at the First Presbyterian church at Thomasville. They are now visiting friends here, and will return to Thomasville tomorrow, where Mr. Patterson is engaged in the turpentine business.

Whiteville was treated to another surprise Thursday afternoon when Mr Aubrey Smith, of Waycross, Ga., arrived with his bride whom he wedded the day before. Mr. Smith was here on a visit two weeks ago but gave no intimation of his matrimonial intentions. But there was a young lady down in Waycross whom he had learned to love and when he had won her hand he insisted that there was no cause for delay, and the result was that he and Miss Sarah Salisbury were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at the home of her parents in Waycross. They will spend a few days here with Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Smith, and then return to Waycross, where the groom holds a responsible position with the Coast Line.

Superior Court has been in session all week and will continue through next week. The criminal docket will be completed this week and next week civil cases will be tried.

Roy Carter, who shot and killed Lowell Carter at Chadbourn last Saturday night, has not yet been arrested. Neal Whitney who has been indicted as an accomplice is in jail here. It is said that Connor and Oscar Brown had a quarrel about a woman when Connor snapped a pistol in his pocket. Carter stepped in front of Brown when Connor drew his gun and shot him twice killing him almost instantly. Connor was tracked for about eight miles in the direction of Bladenboro by bloodhounds.

Miss Lucy Earnhardt, one of the teachers in the graded school, has been compelled to give up her work on account of illness. Miss Mallet, of Chadbourn, will take her place and finish the term.

Miss Gussie Edwards, of Newbern, is acting as court stenographer this week.——Mr. William H. Baxley is spending a few days in Richmond, Va., on business.——Mr. H. L. Foard, a prominent insurance man of Wilmington, was a business visitor here this week.——T. A. Lyon, Esq., of the Fayetteville bar, is visiting his brother, Homer L. Lyon, Esq.

Vineland will have a new drug store at an early date. A company has been organized, and arrangements have been made for putting up a brick building adjoining the Commercial Hotel.

Mr. W. H. Hickman, of Hallsboro, has accepted the agency for the New York Life Insurance Co., in this territory. He moved his family to Whiteville several weeks ago.

Last week the county treasurer announced that the public school funds had been exhausted, and for a time it was feared that the graded school here would have to close. But the patrons of the school came to the rescue, and arrangements have been made for continuing the school for the full term of nine months.

OUTLINES

Three were killed and 23 wounded by the premature explosion of dynamite on the Panama canal construction yesterday.

The Pope's condition yesterday was unchanged with no recurrence of fever; a visit of his brother made an affecting scene.

The will of J. P. Morgan was made public yesterday; there is no estimate of the value; a number of bequests to relatives and friends are made and the residue left to J. P. Morgan, Jr.

The tariff revision bill was completed by the Democratic House caucus yesterday and will be introduced Monday, with the likelihood the measure will get through the Senate about July 15th.

No agreement was reached yesterday between the North Carolina Legislative Commission and railroad officials with reference to a reduction of freight rates in this State, alleged to be discriminatory.

New York markets: Flour quiet. Wheat barely steady, No. 2 red elevator 1.14 1-2 and 1.16. Corn steady. Money on call nominal, no loans, time loans weaker, 60 days 4 1-4; 90 days 4 1-2; six months 4 1-2 to 4 3-4. Spot cotton quiet, middling uplands 12.15. Rosin and Turpentine steady.

RATE CONFERENCE AGAIN ADJOURNED

Lengthy and Spirited Session in Raleigh Fails to Bring Agreement.

FIVE PER CENT. REDUCTION

Shippers Want Twenty-five and Submit Counter Proposition Which Railroads Will Consider Until April 29th—Delays.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 19.—A proposal on the part of the officials of the railroads to give to North Carolina shippers a schedule of freight rate reductions on account of alleged Virginia city rate discriminations that is estimated to mean about a five per cent. reduction; the refusal of the Legislative Freight Rate Commission to consider this proposition as at all in compliance with the letter or the spirit of the suggestions made by the railroad officials at the last conference, while the Legislature was in session; the submission of a counter proposal by the Legislative Commission stipulating a basis of adjustment making about 25 per cent. reduction and the granting of the railroad officials, at their request, until April 29th to make formal answer to this, were the features of the railroad rate conference here today.

In asking until April 29th to make final answer, J. Norment Powell, for the railroad officials, stated that if pressed for final answer tonight, the railroad officials would feel obliged to decline to consider the terms. He stated that the present judgment of the railroad officials is that the basis named by the rate commission would revolutionize rates in North Carolina and other Southern States, and cause so great a diminution of revenues as to prove disastrous. Therefore, they asked until April 29th to investigate and adjournment was taken to that time.

The tension has been high all day as the negotiations advanced with executive sessions of the Commission and railroad officials as each received from the other alternate proposals. Telegrams poured in to the Commission and to Governor Craig and to local representatives here from a number of shipping centers insisting in forcing the railroads to immediate settlement and against indefinite postponement. Nearly 100 came from Charlotte alone. These included H. Q. Alexander, C. C. Hook, Mayor Chas. A. Bland, R. M. Miller, Jr., and officers of the Greater Charlotte Club, which was represented today by Secretary Leake Carraway.

The proposal by the Legislative Commission which the railroad officials have taken until April 29th to consider, is a lengthy document which briefly stated, provides that the proportional of the Ohio river rates and the Western rates dependent thereon south of the Virginia cities, be based upon the nearest Virginia city to the North Carolina line; that, from such Virginia city proportional rates be applied to the construction of through rates from and to the West. Under this basis, the statement sets out, the rates from that section of the State north of and to such shipping points as Ruffin on the Southern; Helena on the Norfolk & Western; Oxford, Dickerson, to Edenton on the Wilmington line of the A. C. L.; the Suffolk branch to Kenford, would have rates according to classification from 61 cents per 100 pounds to 21 cents according to classifications 1 to 6. Immediately south of this line beginning with Rural Hall, Winston-Salem, High Point, Climax, Cary, Raleigh, Bagley, Goldsboro, Rountree and Washington, the rate to be 70 per 100 pounds to 21 on classifications 1 to 6.

South of the above zone on the Southern to Statesville and Charlotte and Albemarle; Seaboard to Rockingham, Hamlet and Laurinburg; Atlantic Coast Line to Pembroke; Virginia & Carolina Southern to Lumberton, and Atlantic Coast Line to Wilmington shall have a rate of 77 first-class to 26th class. Proportional rates are specified on Western Carolina freight zones.

It specifies that carload and commodity rates granted are to be proportionately reduced in accordance with the class rates from the present rates, the proposed rates to be governed by Southern Classification with Associated Railroads exception sheet, not to have the effect of advancing or removing any commodity rates or minimum carload weights in effect at the present time.

It is further stipulated that wherever the rates quoted at present are by reason of water competition or otherwise, less than the maximum rates in the proposal, the present rate, when reduced by the application of the principles used in making the rates in the proposal shall be considered as the maximum rate. And, any change in the rates now in existence proportionate or otherwise, which affect the through rate either east or west of Virginia cities or south of Virginia cities shall affect a further reduction in rates in the proposal. Insistance is made that Virginia rates should apply to the Southern proportional of the through rates to and from Eastern cities.

Following the reading of the proposal of the Legislative Commission to the railroad officials, there was a statement by J. Allen Taylor, of Wilmington, further explaining the attiture of the Commission and representatives of the commercial organizations that the strict understanding is that proportional water rate advantages are to be maintained in the proposed re-adjustment. That is that after the proposed reductions have been applied there must also be added the present proportional reduction by reason of the water rates concessions in force at Wilmington, Fayetteville, Newbern and other points now having water rates.

Justice openly asserted that the railroads had "complied with neither the letter nor the spirit of the agreement" of two months ago. The railroads replied that they had not understood the agreement as interpreted by the State today. Many telegrams came to the departments today demanding special session to force the freight rate fight.

COURTS CAN'T DICTATE TO HIM

Governor Blease Signs Requisition for Wire Tappers in Spite of Habeas Corpus Sued Out at Charleston, S. C.

Columbia, S. C., April 19.—A. A. Carter and Frank Tarbeaux, arrested in this State last week on charges of being members of a "wire tapping" gang that has operated throughout several States, left here tonight for New York, under escort of two officers of the New York police force.

Governor Blease this afternoon honored requisition papers from Governor Sulzer for Carter and Tarbeaux for wire tapping, despite the fact that yesterday in Charleston Judge Devore granted a writ of habeas corpus for the two prisoners. When the order was handed to Governor Blease he immediately granted the requisition, saying the courts could not dictate to him.

"TY" BEFORE CONGRESS.

Baseball Players' Contracts May be Inquired Into by Committee.

Washington, April 19.—The controversy between "Ty" Cobb and the Detroit American Baseball Club management over the signing of Cobb's contract for this season may result in an investigation by Congress to ascertain whether the system of players' contracts of the baseball leagues violate the Sherman anti-trust law or the law against peonage.

Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, representing the District in which Cobb resides, stated tonight he was working on a resolution for such an investigation and would introduce it in the House next week.

Senator Hoke Smith, who declares "Ty" Cobb is one of the South's most prominent citizens, telegraphed to Cobb in Georgia today asking him to forward to Washington a copy of his contract and information regarding the conditions under which the players sign. The Senator said he wished to form an opinion as to the validity of the contract and to ascertain whether it was rue that players are forced to accept terms and salaries or be forever barred from playing. "What I understand exists cannot exist legally," said Senator Smith.

Detroit, Mich., April 19.—Tyrus Cobb will be in Detroit early next week to "talk business" with President Navin of the Detroit American League Club. This wa sthe prediction made tonight by mutual friends of the champion batsman and the baseball magnate, who, for several days have been trying hard to heal the breach of friendshij, known to be existing between the two men. Mr. Navin declined to discuss the matter tonight, but it was learned on excellent authority that Cobb will come here "knowing wha salary he can get," for playing ball this season.

CLARKTON NEWS NOTES

E. C. Clark Named for Mayor—Other Items of Interest

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., April 19.—A well-attended meeting of citizens was held a few nights ago, and the following officers were named to serve the town the next two years: Mayor, E. C. Clark; Aldermen, M. C. Stegall, H. P. Millikin, C. S. Clark. After the nominations were made Hon. L. B. Evans, in his usual impressive manner, expressed his earnest desire to see some move made to drain our immediate neighborhood and town, pointing out the fact that ours is an agricultural community, and, therefore, the most essential thing was to get the water off our lands. Hon. O. L. Clark, who has been called the "Father of the drainage law" (which makes it possible to organize these districts) was passed, and together with the large crowd in attendance helped arouse sufficient enthusiasm to get petitions going which have now been signed by almost every one in the neighborhood.

Messrs. N. A. Currie and G. Horne have qualified as magistrates in this township. They are each so much interested in good roads, and the general progress of the county that we may watch for results of their labor, after our new road law becomes effective and the machinery begins to loosen up.

Mr. Sidney Meares has put in a new saw mill in sight of town and has purchased the McCallum tract and Meares tract of timber. Messrs. G. W. Hester and H. P. Millikin have moved their mill from near Elizabethtown into the G. L. Clark tract and have put it down near the planing mill.

Strawberries did not ripen up much this week, owing to cold rainy weather.——Contractor J. W. Clark spent a few days at his home here this week, he will return here in about ten days and will complete Mr. G. H. Currie's nice residence on "Annie Laurie avenue."——The Cooper farm, near here, will be sold in small farm lots next Thursday, by Thomas Bros.

Oral hearings on the tariff will not be granted by the Senate Finance Committee, according to the opinion of Democrats of the committee expressed at a meeting today. Business men interested will be allowed to file briefs. The committee majority took no action upon the question of oral hearings today and it is doubtful if any such action will be taken unless Republican Senators persistently continue their attempts to have such hearings.

TARIFF REVISION BILL NOW READY

Measure With Few Changes From Report Introduced on Monday.

ITS PROBABLE ENACTMENT

Should Emerge From Senate About July 15th—Ship Exemption Features Amended—The Income Tax Changed

Washington, April 19.—The Democratic tariff revision bill, with its sweeping reductions, a lengthy free list augmented today by the Ways and Means Committee, and its income tax, now is ready for debate in the House.

Approval late today by the Democratic caucus as amended in two weeks' discussion, and by the committee in minor features, the bill will be re-introduced Monday by Leader Underwood. It will be reported favorably by the majority of the Ways and Means Wednesday and then called up for debate. Mr. Underwood predicted that the bill would be passed in the House May 15th.

Two months the administration leaders think a generous time to allot the Senate for its consideration and passage, and unless it is decided to bring in a currency bill thereafter Congress should be ready to adjourn about July 15th. The bill as approved by the President came through the caucus unscatched. Democratic opponents to free sugar in three years and to free raw wool made the most vigorous fight but they were hopelessly outvoted with little chance to develop enough opposition with Republican alliance to do anything with their amendments on the floor of the House.

The caucus ratified the bill with its minor amendments by an overwhelming vote. Some members took advantage of the rule granting entirety. Members who were released from the caucus pledge were: Broussard, Dupree, Lamar and Morgan, of Louisiana, on account of sugar; Ashbrook, White and Francis, of Ohio, because of wool; Bromner and Kinkaid, of Ne wJersey, on account of cattle; Donovan and Kennedy, of Connecticut, because of hats; Burke, of Wisconsin, farm products; Fowler, of Illinois, linseed oil.

The principal changes made in the bill were:

Shoe machinery, buckwheat, rye, rabbit fur, and phosphoric acid transferred from dutiable to the free list; onyx reduced from 65 cents to 50 cents, a cubic foot, to put it on the same basis as marble; diamonds uncut are unchanged, but cut diamonds, increased from 15 to 20 per cent; castor oil reduced from 15 to 12 per cent; cod, seal and herring oil, reduced from 5 to 3 per cent; sperm oil increased from 5 to 8 per cent; vanilla beans reduced from 50 to 30 cents a pound; salts and other compounds and mixtures of which Bismuth, gold, platium, rhodium, silver tin and uranium constitute the chief value, cut from 15 to 10 per cent.

Representative Hardwick insisted it would be a mockery not to draw the lines closely on the offering of amendments.

He introduced a resolution which was referred for subsequent action, providing that the tariff bill shall be passed under a special rule, restricting general debate to eight legislative days and that the minority in the House shall be limited on the offering of amendments to not more than two amendments as substitutes to each schedule and section of the bill, and to not more than two amendments to the bill as a whole and the "no other amendments shall be in order."

The caucus adopted an amendment fixing May 1st, 1916, as the date when raw sugar should go on the free list. The time when the income tax shall become effective was left subject to future disposition by the House.

The big argument in caucus today was over the provision that would allow a five per cent discount on merchandise imported "in vessels built in the United States and which shall be wholly the property of United States citizens."

Representative Harrison, of Mississippi, led a fight against this proposition on the ground that it violated treaty rights and subsidized shipping.

Mr. Harrison's motion to strike out the provision after three hours' discussion was rejected 128 to 60 and his nevt move to amend so as to make it non-applicable to existing treaties likewise was lost. Then Representative Fitzhenry, of Illinois, offered and the House adopted an amendment to this provision so as to strike out the words quoted and substituted "In all vessels entitled to be registered under the American laws." This was acceptable to the committee.

It was on the vote on this question that the first break in the Ways and Means Committee's solid tariff alignment occurred, Representative Kitchin, of North Carolina, of that committee, voting with the Harris proposition and Representative Rainey, of Illinois, another committee Democrat, voting "present." The rest of the committee including Mr. Underwood voted to sustain the bill, declaring it to be a Democratic proposition, that it would aid the merchant marine and would not affect any treaty relations.

Representative Harrison characterized it as subsidy, a violation of treaties, particularly with Great Britain and diversion from the real tariff issue. Representative Simms, of Tennessee; McCoy, of New Jersey; Sisson, of Mississippi; Cullop, of Indiana, and Hardy, of Texas, also opposed the committee provision.

No change was made in the provision that would allow a discriminating duty of 10 per cent ad valorem, in addition to duties to be levied on goods imported in vessels not of the United States or from a foreign contiguous country entering the United States through a contiguous country.

VISITORS CAPTURED GAME

A. & M. Won from A. C. L. at League Park Yesterday by Score of 13 to 1.—Dance in Honor of College Boys.

In a game replete with hard hitting the strong team of the A. & M. College, Raleigh, defeated the Atlantic Coast Line nine at League Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 13 to 1. The Aggies made their 13 hits count for 13 tallies. Terry, formerly a member of the Railroads, but now with the A. & M., where he is a student, played his usual good game.

The features of the game were the batting of Winston, who made three doubles and two singles in five trips to the plate, and the masterly pitching of Kincaid, who held the heavy hitting Coast Line to three scattered hits. In the fifth inning Stovall made a beautiful throw from deep center, nailing Patton at the plate. Both sides played gilt edge ball until the eighth inning.

A. & M. drew first blood, pushing one run over in the first inning. When Patton singled after Farmer had fanned. Correll filed to first and Winston drove one to the left field fence for two bases, scoring Patton. Brittain was out Houston to Hamilton. The Coast Line evened up things in the fourth, when Duls, first man up, doubled to left and scored when Hines went out third to first. Houston hit a beautiful line drive to center, but was called out on what some regardes as a rank decision when center threw to first. Hamilton was hit by a pitched ball, but was out trying to steal second.

The college boys scored two in the fifth. Trust walked and went to second, when Green threw Kincaid's bunt low to second. Farmer filed to second. Trust and Kincaid scored when Kenner let Patton's grounder get through him. Correll filed to center, who nailed Patton at the plate on a perfect peg, thus ending the scoring for this inning. A. & M. added three more in the seventh on a base on balls, two hits and two errors. In the eighth they added six more on six clean hits and an error. Another was added in the ninth on a base on balls, stolen base and a single.

Last night the visiting team was entertained at a dance given at Lumina, Wrightsville Beach, by the Atlantic Coast Line Athletic Association in honor of the Aggies. The dance was well attended by the young people of the city and proved a most delightful event. The A. & M. boys will return to Raleigh this morning.

OAK RIDGE VS. BINGHAM.

Score Three to Two in Game There Yesterday—The Features.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Oak Ridge, N. C., April 19.—Oak Ridge defeated Bingham School here today by a score of 3 to 2. Oak Ridge scored two runs in the first and one in the third inning, but after that failed to cross the rubber owing to dumb base running. Bingham scored in the first on an error throw and was held after that at the mercy of Brinkley til the ninth, when a three-bagger followed by a double, tallied the second run. A superb catch by Swink ended a nerve-racking game. Struck out by Brinkley 14, by Briggs 6. Three-base hit, McConnell; two-base hits, Coble. Brinkley, L. Mackie and Bailey.

Oak Ridge 3 7 3
Bingham 2 6 4

M'GRAW'S MEN WON BOTH

Took Both Ends of Double Header at Boston—Pittsburg Won Batfest. Phillies' Easy Victory. Cubs Win.

Twenty thousand or more Bostonians left Fenway Park yesterday afternoon with a dark brown taste compared with which "the morning after" does not even get place, the occasion for this being the second defeat of the day for the Boston Braves, the New York Giants having handed them two particularly bitter doses of medicine as a finale of their first victory of Friday.

Big Ames was the twirler in the forenoon game, and he kept the Braves' hits well scattered. Tesreau pitched the afternoon session and "came back" in grand form, exhibiting a smooth article of the pitching stuff after his defeat of the first of the week. Capt. Larry Doyle, of the Giants, has been suspended for three days on account of his altercation with an umpire Friday.

The Pirates won a slugging match from the Cincinnati Reds, in which five pitchers were used.

The Brooklyn Car Dodgers took their third consecutive defeat at the hands of the Phillies, and lost again by the close score of one to nothing.

Chicago took the second game of the series with St. Louis, in which a recruit pitcher attempted to do the twirling honors for the locals.

The Giants Are Off.

Boston, April 19.—The New York Giants playing at Fenway Park, the scene of their world's series reverses won a double header from the Boston Nationals today. The afternoon game was captured 10 to 3 through a combiation of free hitting off Hess in three innings and Tesreau's ability to keep the Boston hits scattered.

Capt. Doyle, of the Giants, was suspended by President Lynch for three days, as a result of his altercation with Umpire Byron yesterday.

(Afternoon game).

New York .....004 033 000—10 11 2
Boston .....011 000 100— 3 7 3

Tesreau and Wilson and Hartley; Hess and Rariden; time 2:01; umpires Rigler and Byron.

New York won the forenoon game 7 to 2 by timely hitting and James' erratic pitching. Ames kept the hits of the locals scattered and besides striking out ten men he did not issue a pass. He was given perfect support. Jackson hurt a finger attempting to catch a liner.

New York .....110 030 101—7 8 0
Boston .....000 001 100—2 9 3

Ames and Meyers; Wilson, James and Devot; time 2:00; umpires Rigler and Byron.

Pittsburg Won Another.

Pittsburg, April 19.—Pittsburg won a slugging match from Cincinnati today 6 to 5. Five pitchers were used, three by the visitors and two by Pittsburg. The hitting of Booe, who took Carey's place in left field, was the feature.

Cincinnati .....300 100 010—5 9 1
Pittsburg .....102 102 00x—6 10 2

Packard, Works, Harter and Clark; Cooper, Hendryx and Gibson; time 2:00; umpires Owens and Guthrie.

Car Dodgers Walloped.

Brooklyn, April 19.—The Brooklyns were shut out today for the third time in succession by Philadelphia and again by 1 to 0. Benny Meyer was primarily responsible for today's defeat when in the ninth, with two outs and Knabe on first, he lost Lobert's fly in the sun. The hit went as a three-bagger and Knabe came home with the only run. Both Brennan and Ragan pitched remarkable ball.

Philadelphia ....000 000 001—1 6 4
Brooklyn .....000 000 000—0 5 1

Brennan and Dooin; Ragan and Miller; time 1:19; umpires Klem and Orth.

Cubs Easy Winners.

St. Louis, April 19.—Chicago took the game here today 6 to 1. Hunt, a St. Louis recruit, was unsteady and Chicago coupled hits with bases on balls, scoring enough runs in the early innings to win.

Chicago .....101 030 100—6 7 1
St. Louis .....100 000 000—1 5 2

SENATORS STILL CLIMBING

Took Third Straight Game From Yanks Yesterday — Red Sox Dropped Game to Mackmen Naps and Tigers Win

If anyone should whisper to you that the grandoldope concerning the strength of the Washington Senators was all buncombe, or words to that effect, just tell him to glance down these columns today, yesterday, the day before, or most any old day.

Those who are doping out the A. L. situation should not overlook the fact that these same Senators are liable to cash in a right decent pile of chips at the close of the season, and the Red Sox need to get on a better stride if they have any hopes of repeating their last year's performance. Yesterday afternoon the Washingtons completed the administering of their third consecutive defeat over Frank Chance's Peerlessly Piloted Yankees, Walter Johnson shutting out the New Yorkers by a score of three to nothing. Only one of Chance's men reached second base during the game.

The Red Sox seem to be still pursued by the jinx, and dropped another game to the Athletics yesterday. O'Brien was driven off the rubber in the first inning, was replaced by Hall, and later Carrigan ended the session.

The Cleveland Naps made it two straights by defeating Chicago in the second game of the series. Falkenburg, for Cleveland, was hit hard, but had excellent support.

The Tigers won the second game of their series with St. Louis, by a shut-out score, the pitcher, making half the tigers' scores, as well as throwing out seven runners at first.

Senators Make It Three Straight

New York, April 19.—Washington made it three straights over New York here today, Walter Johnson shutting out the New Yorkers by a score of 3 to 0. Only one of Chance's men reached second base. Johnson struck out eight men. Keating and Schultz pitched well for New York though Washington bunched hits in the third and fourth when the visitors scored three runs.

Washington .. ..001 200 000—3 4 0
New York .....000 000 000—0 6 3

Johnson and Ainsmith; Keating, Schulz and Sweeney. Time 1:45. Umpires, Dineen and Hart.

Red Sox Dropped Another

Philadelphia, April 19.—Plank and Wykoff failed to hold Boston today after the home team had driven O'Brien off the rubber in the first inning. Pennock was sent in in the fifth inning with no one out and the bases filled and his excellent work enabled Philadelphia to win, the score being 7 to 5. Five hits and two stolen bases sent O'Brien into retirement and gave the home team three runs. Hall, who succeeded O'Brien, lasted until the fifth. Leonard who pitched the last four innings, blanked his opponents.

Boston .. ..022 010 000—5 9 1
Philadelphia ....410 200 00x—7 13 0

O'Brien, Hall, Leonard and Carrigan; Plank, Wyckoff, Pennock and Lapp and Thomas. Time 2:10. Umpires Connolly and McGreevy.

Naps Win Second

Chicago, April 19.—Cleveland made it two straight today by defeating Chicago 9 to 2. The locals started with Lange in the box but he was forced to retire. After four runs had been scored R. Smith came to the rescue, but he was forced to quit after Cleveland had accummulated three more runs. Falkenberg although hit hard had excellent support.

Cleveland .. ..010 403 010 —9 10 0
Chicago .. .. ..000 010 100—2 10 1

Falkenberg and Carisch; Lange, C. Smith, R. Smith and Schalk, Kuhn. Umpires. O' Loughlin and Ferguson. Time 2:10.

Cobbless Tigers Won

Detroit, April 19.—DuBuc's fine pitching held St. Louis to three widely separated hits and Detroit won 4 to 0 with eleven safeties. The pitcher also started two batting rallies, made half of the Tigers' runs and threw out seven runners at first base. At no time did St. Louis threaten to score.

St. Louis .. ...000 000 000—3 3 3
Detroit .. ..000 001 03x—4 11 1

Allison and Alexander and Agnew; DuBuc and McKee. Time 1:23. Umpires, Evans and Hildebrand.

KILLED BY PITCHED BALL

James Thompson, Jr., Meets Death as Result of Game at Kingsdale

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., April 19.—While engaged in playing baseball this afternoon near Old Kingsdale, six miles south of here, James Thompson, Jr., aged 25, was struck on the head by a pitched ball from the hands of Abner Britt, the blow causing death at 7 o'clock. Dr. McPhaul responded to a hurry 'phone call but found on arrival that nothing could save Thompson, death resulting from concussion of the brain. No blame is attached to anyone.

WAKE FOREST TRACK MEET.

Sixty-three to 54 Score Yesterday With A. & M. College.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wake Forest, N. C., April 19.—Wake Forest defeated A. & M. in a beautiful track meet 63 to 54. The issue of the meet swung on the last event, the pole vault, and the crowd went wild when Tyner and Britton cleared the reed at 9.9. Tyner for Wake Forest won 24 points, while Floyd, of A. & M., won 10.

HIS MOTHER DEAD.

Jimmy Walsh, of the Phillies, Called to Bedside of Mother.

The following from this week's issue of Sporting Life will be of interest to the many friends of Jimmy Walsh, who was seen here with the Phillies in their game with the Orioles:

"Jimmy" ("Runt") Walsh, of the Phillies, was called to his home at Lima, O., on Saturday night by a telegram which brought news of the serious illness of his aged mother. Walsh left Saturday night and arrived at the bedside of his dying mother, Mrs. Margaret Walsh, in time to imprint a kiss upon her lips before she expired. Mr. Walsh, aged 70, died of heart disease."

Walsh is one of the most popular players with the Phillies, and made many friends in Wilmington during his brief stay. He will be recalled by those who witnessed the game here as one of the two players who had made an agreement not to shave their whiskers until after training season was closed, his face being adorned with a bristley growth of hair at the time he was here.

WAKE FOREST, OF COURSE.

Fifteenth Game With Trinity, Score Four to Nothing.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., April 19.—Wake Forest played Trinity a shut-out game today, 4 to 0. The Baptists simply outclassed the Methodists at every phase of the game. Kanipe started in to pitch for Trinity, but was replaced at the end of the first by Fitzgerald. The latter pitched a good game, yielding only five hits and one run to the famous sluggers. The Baptists played their usual fast game, the pitching of Smith being an especial feature of the game. He allowed only two hits, both ineffective, and was never in danger of being scored upon.

Batteries: Kanipe, Fitzgerald and Maddox; Smith and Lowe. Hits off Kanipe 3; Fitzgerald 5; Smith 2. Errors: Trinity 5, Wake Forest 2. Umpire Ferris.

ORDER, SAYS LYNCH

President of National League Meted Out Punishment to Players

New York, April 19.—President Lynch, determined to have strict order on the playing fields of the National League, today meted out punishment to offending players. Second Baseman Doyle, of the New Yorks, was set down for three days for kicking in the game with Boston yesterday, while Heine Pietz, of St. Louis, was fined $50 and suspended three days for using abusive language during the contest with Chicago. Second Baseman Sweeney, of Boston, has been suspended three days for trouble on the playing field, while Pitcher Perdue, of the same club, was fined $10 for discoloring the ball.

AND MR. VANDERBILT PAID

"Get the Very Best," Was His Instruction—Sequel Became Only a Matter of Course.

This is how the late Cornelius Vanderbilt found himself giving to an institution the same costly carpet he had just selected for his palatial New York home:

Saint Johnland is a church community on Long Island, where differences of faith play little part in the admission of some 200 children and old people. Mr. Vanderbilt, its vice-president, offered one day, through Dr. Henry Mottet, to give the chapel a much-needed carpet, and told Dr. Mottet where to buy it. The article continues:

"Get the very best," said Mr. Vanderbilt, who had just finished his new house at 1 West Fifty-seventh street.

Mr. Mottet accordingly looked over carpets and selected a costly one of red velvet. He told the clerk it was for an institution, gave its rather generous dimensionss-to-be, and added that the bill should go to Mr. Vanderbilt. The clerk had some difficulty to recover his composure.

Town Politics Lively—New Hotel Seems Certain—Sale Day Next Friday—Dove 20 Years Old—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., April 19.—The town politicians have roused up and a stranger could realize in a very short time that something was about to happen. Those interested are holding caucuses on street corners, the sunny side of buildings and any old place without regard to the hour, day or night. Tuesday, the 29th, is the day upon which the voters will decide who shall be mayor for the next term.

Friends of both candidates seem perfectly confident of success. There seems to be little interest as to commissioners, but it is hoped that good men will be chosen. Lumberton is now where it can't afford to go backward, and we hope our people will lay aside all personal prejudices, if they have any, and put a set of men in who will push up instead of pull down.

We do not believe there is any doubt this time about Lumberton's having a new hotel within the next year. The right man is now behind it to make it an assured fact. If anyone knows where Dr. McPhaul has fallen down in any of his undertakings let him or them cite the case. Dr. McPhaul says the town is going to have a 40-room up-to-date hotel at the Seaboard station, that it will extend to the right of way. Such a relief to see the old buildings removed and a hotel go up there instead.

From the way our merchants are advertising they must certainly expect next Friday to be a great day in Lumberton. There is going to be great bargains here on that day for everybody, whether it is real estate or something else they want to invest in. With favorable weather there is little doubt of a large crowd. A brass band and other attractions will be present to entertain the visitors who want to make themselves right at home.

One day this week a gentleman handed us a letter which he had just received from a relative who recently removed from this section to another State. With permission we quote a few lines from that letter, hoping at the same time that no one reading it will have an attack of palpitation of the heart. We can only stand a portion of it and don't want to rush it on others. Read these few lines; "I do think this is the coming country of the whole United States. I will tell you a few things I have seen today and recently. I saw one potato a perfectly formed yam, that weighed 24 3-4 pounds, nearly as large as a half bushel measure; one fish that weighed 45,000 pounds; one cabbage that weighed 40 pounds; one crawfish today, (Sunday, April 13) that weighed 15 pounds, six feet long; one cotton stalk that was 10 3-4 in. diameter—I mean diameter, not circumference. Long staple cotton grows wild in this country, and there has not been a day in 10 years that you could not pick blooms, open cotton or grown bolls from this plant. I have seen one stalk of cane 17 feet long. I saw today ripe oranges, limes, grape fruit, and other tropical fruits, and on the same tree I saw blooms for more fruit. This is what I would call the poor man's paradise. I would not give my home here for the whole town of Lumberton, if I had to go back there for the rest of my life." The author of the letter was born within five miles of Lumberton, and, of course, we have no right to doubt his veracity, but kind readers, draw your own conclusions.

A few days ago while laborers were engaged in cleaning up and burning off an old hedge on a farm belonging to Mr. Frank Gough, eight or ten miles east of town, the fire got beyond their control and went into the woods. Some of those who went to the scene say they saw some parties running ahead of the fire carrying a whiskey still. They had such short notice that all they could do was to grab the still and run. That still is liable to get some one or more into trouble yet.

Last Saturday night when the fire alarm was given here by the blowing of the fire whistle, several people slept on without being disturbed by that wild cat yell, but when fire was discovered in cotton at the National Cotton Mills, two miles away. Tuesday night, few escaped hearing the sound of the mill whistle. We really believe that good whistles are better for giving alarms than bells.

Mr. H. McL. Green has thousands of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere who will be delighted at his receiving the appointment as posmaster for that city, but there is none who will rejoice with him more than the writer. In our dealings with men during the past quarter of a century we have never met one whom we considered a more clean, conscientious gentleman in every way than Mr. Green. Any community is fortunate in having such a man for a citizen.

Mrs. Percy Vaughan and children left Thursday for Lake City, Fla., where Mr. Vaughan is engaged in the lumber business. They expect to make that town their future home.

The last theatrical attraction which was booked for last Friday night, failed to show up. During the season none but good shows have played Lumberton. Only one attraction failed to give great satisfaction, and that one was all right, but it just didn't suit our people.

One afternoon during a cold rain in May, 1893, while we were working on Dock street, between Front and Second, in Wilmington, a boy came along with a young dove which he had undoubtedly stolen from the nest. The little bird was not more than half feathered and was wet and cold. We bought it from the boy in order that it might die peacefully. We took the little thing and laid it down by the stove where we felt sure it would soon breathe its last. To our surprise in the few minutes it was walking around as bright as a new quarter. We got something for it to eat and the appetite of that bird was something wonderful. We took good care of it and it grew up as fine a specimen of the dove family as was ever seen. It was very gentlemanly, never showing any fear of cats, dogs or anything else. It never showed any signs of being sick at any time until last Saturday, when it refused to eat. Sunday night the bird died at the advanced age of 20 years. As near as we can tell, it was within ten days or two weeks of its 20th birthday.

Mr. Eugene Chisholm, insurance adjuster from Charlotte, was here yesterday, settling Mr. C. B. Redmond's loss caused by the fire last Saturday night. Since Mr. Redmond first began business several years ago he has suffered losses in four different fires, but he is proud to say that none of the fires started in his place of business. Each time Mr. Redmond has had a loss it has fallen to Mr. Chisholm to adjust the claim, and in each instance has shown that he and his company wanted to do the right thing. Mr. Redmond says he has always been satisfied with the settlements.

Dr. Page reports three cases of smallpox on the west side of the river, all colored people, one case being very severe.

Sheriff Lewis is now advertising lands for sale for taxes for the year 1912, the sale to take place on Monday, May 5th. When the number of land owners in the county is considered the delinquent list is remarkably small.

We regret to learn of the critical illness of Mrs. A. E. Floyd, of Fairmonth. All hope of her recovery has been despaired of. She has two sons, Messrs. Marcus and Fulton Floyd, residing at Lumberton. Mrs. Floyd is a daughter of the late Rev. A. R. Pitman, for many years one of the leading Baptist ministers of this county. She has two brothers who are also ministers, Rev. A. McA. Pitman, of South Carolina, and Rev. N. R. Pitman, of Missouri.

The old style wooden counters are fast giving way to the glass counters and show cases combined. Nearly all the stores in Lumberton are now equipped with the glass counters, Mr. M. W. Floyd, being the latest to put them in.

Mr. Lucas, who conducts the city market, butchered a beef somewhere down the road yesterday, and after it was dressed, wrapped it in the hide to bring it home. Upon arrival here, Dr. Edmond, meat inspector, condemned it, but we did not learn on what ground.

Mr. W. S. Britt, of the law firm of Britt & Britt delivered the closing address at Raft Swamp school last night. It is useless to say that those present were given a treat. Mr. W. K. Bethune, of the Robesonian, accompanied Mr. Britt, and every one who knows Walton knows there was more than one address delivered, though one of them may not have been heard by all present.

Mrs. Eliza Bass celebrated her 80th birthday Tuesday. Quite a number of relatives and friends enjoyed an elegant dinner with the aged lady who does not show by appearances that she is over 50 or 60 years old. Mrs. Julia Deese is a sister of Mrs. Bass, being one and a half years younger.

The Laurinburg Marble Works has opened a branch office here in the Weinstein building. Lumberton has two or three agencies for marble yards, but while all are obliged to have, or should have, some kind of mark for their resting place, no one desires to purchase until compelled to do so.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTHPORT.

News, Social, Personal and Otherwise From Lower Cape Fear.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., April 19.—Friday afternoon, from 3 to 6, at her home on Atlantic avenue, Mrs. B. F. Stiffler tendered a delightful reception in honor of Mrs. W. R. Gardner, of Thousand Island Park, N. Y., who has been spending the Winter in this city, and will return north on the 26th instant. The guests were entertained with some novel social features, prizes rewarding the successful ones. The house was decorated with wild flowers. A delicious ice course was served.

Last night at the Pavilion, a complimentary dance was given the young ladies of Southport by their gentlemen friends, which was greatly enjoyed.

At Fort Caswell the past week, there has been sub-calibre and mine practice. The Gen. E. C. D. Ord is here on the regular visit of the Spring season, a visit usually of six weeks, to give the mining squad of the fort actual and active demonstrative work in the planting and firing of mines. This practice is now going on off Bald Head. Besides the planting and firing the mining crew has to handle the rapid-fire guns, these guns covering the planted mines, which must be protected from any invasion, such as a torpedo boat coming in to cut the wire connecting the mines, and so preventing their explosion, rendering them useless.

Another week has passed without any work being done upon the railroad dock. The same trouble of not being able to get pilings, the kind needed for the dock, is the reason for the continued delay, though it is reported that the pilings have been found in the shape of trees, and these are now being cut.

Friday noon a sensational runaway, horse and buggy, fortunately with no one in the buggy at the time, took place that brought out a large part of the population, for it seemed impossible, except by visible demonstration, that any horse would or could make the circuit of this place and then take a mile run outside of town, and then have to be forcibly stopped. Such was the case on Friday, and the animal belonged to W. T. Fullwood. There was but slight damage to the vehicle.

The marriage at the Methodist church on last Wednesday night of Mr. John G. Caison and Miss Lillian, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Richard T. Bensel, was a social event that caused the church to be filled with relatives and friends of both contracting parties. The chancel and pulpit were banked with vines and flowers. Mr. Ozen Carrier was best man, while Miss Annie St. George was maid of honor. Rev. C. M. Lance, pastor of the Methodist church, read the marriage ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Caison were recipients of many presents. They will make Southport their home.

The May First Baby Show, with parade and other features, is of greatest local interest at present, and the evidence of this is to be seen in the entry list of some two score contestants, and also in the list of prizes, there being two or more for each class of special contestants.

The late arrival of the "mixed" train on the W., B. & S. railroad, due to reach here if the schedule means anything, about 10:30 in the morning, but which has been arriving from noon to 2 P. M., is reported as caused by the amount of freight which this train has to handle. As one engine has to do service for both the passenger and freight between here and Navassa, a late freight in the morning means a late passenger train at night.

St. Phillip's Episcopal church, beginning the first Sunday in May, will have a rector, and there will be regular services upon the first three Sundays in each month. The rector who is to come is Rev. John L. Moody, of Fayetteville. The plan is for him to come on the Fridays preceding the Sundays upon which he will officiate at St. Phillip's, leaving on Mondays. Bishop Strange has been largely instrumental in securing the rector, and the effort will be made, both by the church here, with what assistance can be gained from other sources, to continue these services if not increase them.

TO THE PUBLIC

The tax rate of Wilmington from 1878 to 1912 has ranged from $2.00 to $1.30 per hundred. Since 1890, it seldom has been the same for any two consecutive years. The lowest it ever was, was when it was made $1.30 in 1910, which was not sufficient to cover actual expenses.

All this while the city was receiving the liquor tax which would make it thirty (30) cents higher if the same amount of money was raised by an addition to the tax rate. The liquor tax was lost when prohibition went into effect in 1909.

From June, 1909, to June, 1911, there was a Near Beer tax which brought into the city $20,035.00. In addition to this the city received court costs up until the establishment of Recorder's Court (for which we may thank Mr. Springer.)

When Mr. Springer went out of office he left (by the kindness of the Board of Audit and Finance something like a balance of $57,739.) of this amount Mr. MacRae's administration used $30,684.20. Does it not look like the tax rate was inadequate to the demands of current expense?

When this Council went into office, it lost the Near Beer tax, and in the way of new expenses and investments we have the following items:

Council's salary	$14,400.00
Health Dept. cost for 1911 to 1913 more than it did from 1909 to 1911	6,398.92
Investment for sanitary equipment	4,762.00
First year's payments on fire apparatus	4,000.00
First year's payments on police call system	2,000.00
Money invested in sidewalks	10,741.00
Money invested in a block of city property for stables	13,500.00
Total	$55,851.92

For the above investments and expenses the city now has a debt of about $40,000.00. Of the above amount ($55,851.92), $35,053.00 are represented in tangible assets.

The reason that the monthly statements of expenditures shows $269,983.00 as the total of the budget, while the printed statements shows $289,226.00 is because the latter includes the probable expenses of the Water Department, which is self-supporting, and whose expenses therefore are not estimated on the basis of cost to the city out of general taxes.

By reference to the records at the City Hall of the minutes of Board of Audit and Finance as to what they thought of Mr. O'Brien's and Mr. Springer's financial ability, I give you the following extracts:

Semi-monthly Meeting Board Audit and Finance, Dec. 3rd, 1907.

"The clerk was instructed to request the Chairman of Streets and Wharves Committee to have a daily statement furnished the Board showing the disposition of the rock received from the quarry for street repairs work, and it was further ordered that no bills should be paid out of the appropriation heretofore made for repairs to streets, except such as were strictly included under the classification."

semi-monthly Meeting of Board of Audit and Finance, Nov. 19, 1907.

"The Chairman called attention of the Board to the fact that the appropriation was made for repairs of streets, on the ground that same were deteriorating and becoming rough and in some places dangerous, was being used for the construction of new streets which was not contemplated in the request for the appropriation nor in the concurrence of this Board and asked the pleasure of the Board in regard to the matter. After full discussion it was ordered that the Mayor (Mr. Springer) be notified that expenditures for the construction of new streets were not properly chargeable to the appropriation for repair of streets, that there was no appropriation for such construction, and that bills for same would not be approved by this Board.

It was also ordered that in view of the small quantity of rock being hauled from the quarry, the services of the rock weigher did not appear to be necessary, and the expense of one could not be allowed. It being understood that Mr. Dock was willing to furnish the weights without expense to the city. It was further ordered, that the use of the steam roller not being considered necessary for the repair work authorized on the streets, the expense of an engineer could not be allowed."

Mr. Voter, who saved the money, Mr. Springer or the Board of Audit and Finance?

Yours very truly,

When a man runs for an office he runs a risk.

Old fashioned Federal judges put the junk in injunction.

In order to keep a boy at work, get the boy to run a race with you while you work.

In order to prove an alibi be careful not to hunt up mischief just to get in it.

Prevarication has a great deal of competition, but it continues to hold its own.

Some men's idea of hoeing their own row is to hire somebody else to do the hoeing. Same with sawing wood.

The lid is on in Wilmington, but now and then the officers of the law manage to get under it where it isn't on tight.

Our idea of a tight wad is a monied man who buys a dray horse for his wife to drive rather than let her take any risk with an automobile.

Every baseball team starts out unthe most flattering auspices, but the auspices change after a team goes up against other teams that play ball.

A near relative may be a long ways off when he gives his kinfolks money with which to buy an automobile when it is a two-horse team they need.

A great deal of food for thought has been furnished by the high price of food commodities. The high cost of living is a problem which concerns the poor and the rich.

The English suffragettes who have developed into arsonettes, must belong to that type of the sisterhood who used to scald the dogs of their neighbors.

In portions of the South where cotton is grown to the exclusion of food crops, the farmers are as much affected as anybody else by the high price of hog and hominy.

For general purposes the country needs a lower tariff. For party purposes, the Democratic Congress should construct a defensible tariff that will relieve the masses and stand the test with the people.

Yuan Shi Kai predicts that the Chinese Republic will last ten thousand years. If he could live to see the day that his prophesy is fulfilled, he could regard himself as a true prophet.

It is estimated by a French gem expert that up to now the earth has yielded diamonds worth $4,700,000,000. Most men never think of all that pile of brilliants till they get beside themselves and try to get engaged.

Our idea of having a big navy is that it will enable us to maneuvre with it so as to give other nations to understand that they must let us alone so we can attend our own business, if they will attend to theirs.

The best home is that in which a husband shares with his wife the responsibility of making the home what it ought to be. A house with two heads is better than one with one head. It is an exploded idea that a home needs a woman more than it does a man.

If an apology is due Dr. Cook, he can get it by furnishing front page matter that will prove that he was made the victim of ley fuga because he claimed that he was the first to discover the North Pole. In order to effectually nail all the lies told on him, let him come forward with the Big Nail.

Look out for the man who is looking for a job. Keep him in Wilmington by giving him work. Every man who works is an asset to a city. The real constructive elements in any country are resources, labor and capital. The world's richest treasure spot would yield nothing but for labor and capital. Labor produced capital.

The mud tax, the sand tax and the swamp tax is the expense that is saddled on transportation on the old fashioned dirt road. A lower tax to construct improved rural highways cuts off the higher tax that our farmers have to bear in hauling their produce over impassable roads. Since the matter of transportation, distribution and marketing is absolutely essential to the success of the farmers, and of prime importance to consumers, we will begin to solve the problems of agriculture when we thread eastern North Carolina with good roads. One of the biggest questions in this country is the road question. Begin work on the roads and other problems will be easier.

HERE'S WHERE WE BUTT IN

A St. Louis packer asks "why not eat goat meat?" The New Orleans States ups and says:

"If that chap were familiar with the methods of the butcher trade in this neck of the woods, he would know that for a long time we have been eating goats for mutton and paying sheep prices."

That is the case nearly everywhere, and few people know the difference. It is admitted that the goat spends most of its time nibbling at something or other and that it is not very particular about its eats, but since the goat keeps right on the job when it comes to grazing or eating, it will stay fat where a sheep would have to be hauled out to the boneyard. After an existence of great activity and determination to eat everything in his path, the sturdy industrious and honest goat is palmed off on the unsuspecting public as a member of the delicate sheep family.

That is where a protest should be filed on behalf of Billy, for a goat can stand on its own merits, when it comes to having his flesh passed off as mutton. The quality of goat meat and mutton depends upon the age of the animal when it is slaughtered, and upon the means of fattening each for the butcher. The butcher who does not know how to kill and skin either a sheep or goat can make a bad job of it when it comes to the quality and taste of the meat. Both properly slaughtered and dressed, furnish classy meat, but there are those who much prefer the goat. "Nil disputandum de gustibus non."

The popular prejudice against the goat is because it has been made the butt of the jokers ever since the days of Noah. Its name is agianst it, wherefore the goat should insist upon being called a kid, especially when it comes to putting its meat on the block to be handled by the butcher. What epicure is not fond of roast kid, which looms large on the menu list of the biggest hotels of the country? "Kids," such as the butchers handle open and above board, is the meat of the little tannies, and if the meat eater knows what is good he will call for savory roast kid and if he can't get kid he will take Spring lamb. However, a great deal of the Spring lamb served at the hotels is the much abused kid. Even mutton is served for Spring lamb, when there is all the difference in the world.

The goat really is a superior meat animal and that St. Louis packer knows it. When the goat is fattened and given the same care as sheep and is slaughtered before it gets old enough to be reminiscent of a by-gone age, its meat will hold its own when it gets in the market and especially in the hands of the right kind of cook. Don't let us underrate the goat, and don't let us forget that there are different breeds of the goat. We ought to be raising thousands of them in eastern North Carolina, for there is all sorts of profit in goats when they are breeded in large numbers. Goats' milk is a fine diet and many cheesmaking countries largely depend upon the goat. After the goat has been slaughtered and its meat contributes to man's food supply, its skin goes to the tanner and comes out as "vici kid." It is the chief material in our finest shoes and the daintiest slippers and the most queenly footwear of American beauties, constitute examples of the highest type of kid quality.

We do not begin to understand the value of the kid family, but when we do we will have many a goat ranch in North Carolina. It is one of the most economical animals as to breeding, care and up-keep, and our farmers would find no specialty or side issue so profitable as the raising of goats. It is time for us to learn that in this country, where we can raise cattle, hogs, sheep and goats to greater advantage than can be done in any other portion of America. That is the truth and it is time for us to know it and realize upon it.

NAVAL STORES EXHAUSTION.

Wilmington once was the world's greatest centre for the production and exportation of naval stores, but for some years Savannah has taken the lead. Wilmington's naval stores business declined because the resources of our magnificent long leaf pine forests were exhausted. We tapped and destroyed without reforestation and taking steps to keep up a great source of wealth. The Savannah region seems to be declining in production, or at least, there is fear of it, for the Savannah Morning News, noting the close of the naval stores year, April 1st, says:

"At the beginning of the year it was expected that the receipts of this port for the year would show a decrease of about 10 per cent. They show an increase of 4 per cent. That doesn't look as if the end of the business were close at hand. For a good long time now the prediction has been made periodically that the business practically would soon be a thing of the past, that the pine forests would soon all be worked out, but still the turpentine and the rosin keep coming along and, judging from the past, it will be a good while yet before we shall not be receiving naval stores in sufficient quantities to make the naval stores market worthy of an annual review. Savannah continues to hold her position as the great naval stores market of the world. And here again prediction has been at fault. Years ago it was thought that the chief market would pass Savannah by as it did Wilmington and Charleston. But Savannah continues to hold the fort, and for very good reason. She is a better shipping point than any one of the other ports in touch with the naval stores territory. She received the past year almost as much naval stores as all the other ports together, and hence is in a position to make the price, and hence that makes her the great market."

How long will it be before the Savannah naval stores industry declines like that of Wilmington and Charleston? Just as soon as the long leaf pine forests are cut over and wantonly destroyed by tree tappers, forest fires, and razor back hogs, the triple causes that prevent natural reforestation. A system of reforestation and forest care taking near Wilmington has demonstrated the fact that a great saw milling industry can be maintained indefinitely. Four cuttings of timber have been secured from that forest, and yet the young growth is reproducing as much timber as has ever been cut away. If we had taken care of our naval stores region like that, Wilmington's great export business in turpentine, tar, rosin and pitch would never have been impaired.

What articles of commerce can be distributed through the port of Wilmington when the Panama canal is ready for the passage of the ships of the world? How far into the interior can we look for products for export, and for consignees for imports? If a ship should seek for a cargo at Wilmington, what could we offer her? It is time to find out.

Madero may yet be regarded as the martyr President of Mexico.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Southern Railway is already double-tracking across North Carolina and the Seaboard and Coast Line are beginning the work. By the time the Norfolk Southern finishes its line into Charlotte, we would not be surprised to see it go back to Norfolk and start this way again another track. This is the day of railroad development in the Old Notrh State.—Charlotte Observer.

We are glad to see that some interest is being taken in the coming municipal election. Several tickets have been slated for mayor and commissioners. All are good men, competent and trustworthy, and whoever gets it will satisfy a majority of the people. Several candidates are out for Recorder, and in this case, too, whoever is elected will do credit to himself and the office. The bond issue for a new public school building will carry by almost a unanimous vote, which will be a commendable act, showing to the outside world that Red Springs is always in the lead when education is to the front.—Red Springs Citizen.

That the Atlantic Coast Line has great faith in North Carolina might be judged from recent improvements which are now in process and which are to be completed at a very early date. This company, it appears, is straining every nerve to make what it has of the best and thoroughly capable of caring for any increased demands that might be made upon it. There are lots of us hereabouts who would like to see this line extend out and take in a considerable bit of what is known in railroad parlance as "branch line territory." Noticeable among those petitioning for the Atlantic Coast Line in these parts of the State is Newbern, who likes the branch line so well that they want the road into that city from the North. While the city "dads" in dear old Raleigh have been on the housetops with their eyes trained on the territory to the east, trying to distinguish across the horizon the track layers from the Atlantic Coast Line building in from Spring Hope.—Rocky Mount Telegram.

Wedding Ring.

Most people know that the reason the wedding ring is put on the fourth finger of the left hand is said to be because the first two fingers and the thumb were counted all as fingers, and therefore as three. The thumb used to be the ring finger anciently, and the seal rings of those in authority were placed on this first short, thick finger, the most useful of the hand. The wedding ring is the modern descendant of this old-time thumb ring and was removed to the fourth finger in this way: The first three were named for the three persons of the Trinity, and at the word amen, after the naming of the three, the ring reached the fourth finger and was left there. In reality, the ring finger is the safest place for it.

There is another and less pleasant origin, too, for the wedding ring. The old rings were the mark of bondage as well as of dignity.

The Gentleman.

Carlyle said of Robert Burns that there was no truer gentleman in Europe than the plowman poet. It was because he loved everything—the mouse and the daisy, and all the things, great and small, that God had made. So with this simple passport he could mingle with any society, and enter courts and palaces from his little cottage on the banks of the Ayr. You know the meaning of the word "gentleman." It means a gentle man—a man who does things gently with love. And that is the whole art and mystery of it. The gentleman cannot in the nature of things do an ungentle, an ungentlemanly thing. The ungentle soul, the inconsiderate, unsympathetic nature cannot do anything else.—Henry Drummond.

Didn't Improve Situation.

There was a certain master of foxhounds in one of the English shires who was greatly angered by the awkwardness of one of the gentlemen who invariably rode over the hounds. At one of the meets the M. F. H. rode up to the awkward hunter and, in the most chilling tones, said: "Mr. So-and-so, there are two dogs in the pack today, Snap and Tatters, which I am especially fond of and I would esteem it a favor if you would avoid killing or maiming them with your horse's hoofs." "Certainly, my dear fellow," replied Mr. So-and-so, "but, as I do not know them will you be kind enough to put tags on them for me."

The Finish.

She—Mary wouldn't work for $5 a week and now she is working for a dollar.

He—What happened? Did they cut her wages?

She—No. She got married.

TELEGRAPH POLE OF CRYSTAL

Streets In French City Paved With Glass Blocks Also Asserted to Give Satisfaction.

The increasing uses to which crystal is being put are little short of marvelous. In Lyons there are many streets paved with glass blocks, these being adjusted so perfectly that water is not able to pass between them. It is said that the glass pavement has a greater resistance than stone and is a bad conductor of heat, for which reason ice does not form readily on the surface. Moreover, it is beyond question more durable than stone, it is cheaper and more easily portable, and it offers neither interstices nor hollows where mud can lodge.

In Germany, near Frankfort, there is a factory for the manufacture of crystal telegraph poles. In order to give better solidity to the crystal mass of the posts they carry a framework of thick wire. These posts are better than wood because they perfectly resist the attacks of insects and are impervious to atmospheric influences.

Dresses made of crystal thread have been known for some time. Dresses of spun crystal have a brilliancy like silk. Curtains, carpets, mantles, and relatively fine textures generally are being made of crystal, while factories are going up in various parts of western Europe for the furthering of this industry.—Harper's Weekly.

SILK GROWERS IN COMPLAINT

Manufacture of Artificial Article Is Bitterly Resented by French Dealers In the Real Thing.

The silk makers of France are waging an unusual war against the makers of artificial silk, which was produced last year to the amount of 6,000,000 kilos (a kilo is 2.2 pounds), according to the Berlin chamber of commerce.

The better grades of this artificial silk sell for $3 a kilo, and the cheapest as low as $1.20. On the other hand, real silk costs at least $8.40 a kilo to produce.

The effect of this competition is shown by the falling off in the production of silk. The number of silk worm raisers has declined since 1892 from 119,000 to 102,000, and the product has declined 40 per cent., to only 425,000 kilos.

Appeals to the law are being made by the silk growers, who saw that the use of the word "artificial" in connection with silk is not enough to protect them against ruinous competition.

LEARN TO EAT

Then If Stomach Rebels You Need Mi-o-na

One of the great characteristics of the American people is—too rapid eating. The inevitable result of bolting our food is indigestion with its various forms of stomach ills.

Nothing makes life so miserable, or interferes so widely with the usefulness of the average American as dyspepsia, the result of indigestion.

The quick lunch counters, many restaurants, and even some homes are veritable manufacturers of stomach troubles.

It seems useless to say "eat slowly" for our best physicians, and publications devoted to health, have been making the same cry for years, yet we don't heed their warnings.

Since we persist in defying nature, help must be given the digestive machinery, otherwise serious results will follow.

Mi-o-na Tablets are a specific for stomach ills. They not only attack the food in the stomach and assist in its digestion, but go farther, and tone up the entire digestive tract, restoring it to a healthy conditian so that we can eat what we want at any time without distress.

Take Mi-ona at the first sign of upset stomach, such as headache, dizziness, coated tongue, eructating of sour food, or nervousness. All the symptoms of stomach distress will promptly disappear, indicationg that the digestive machinery is once more running smoothly.

Remember, Mi-o-na is always sold on money back if not satisfied plan. Robt. R. Bellamy and druggists everywhere. 50 cents for a large box.

A HOWLING SUCCESS

The Star's Great Historical and Trade Edition Meets With Flattering Reception.

The movement of The Wilmington Morning Star to issue a splendid Historical and Trade Edition has met with a gratifying reception from the business interests of the city. Wilmington's progressive merchants, manufacturers and professional men, keenly realizing the far-reaching and lasting benefit which will accrue from a complete and graphic exposition of the growth of this community, are according their hearty support to the plan, and the success of the undertaking is more than assured. The Star's special staff of reporters, artists and solicitors, to whom this important work has been intrusted, is being courteously received by the men of business whom they are daily interviewing, and from all sides come the assurance of unqualified aid and co-operation.

SUPERB BOOM EDITION.

Do not let your neighbor out-do you. Remember this when our representative calls to see you. The compiling of data concerning Wilmington activities and the reduction of this data to well and accurately written articles, descriptive of individual commercial enterprise, our schools of learning, churches, progressive life, etc., is progressing rapidly and most satisfactorily, and will be pushed with unabated vigor until the day of publication.

GETTYSBURG ANNIVERSARY

Blue and Gray Will Meet and Mingle Where Decisive Battle Occurred. Many Wilmington Veterans Will Attend.

The 50th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg will be celebrated on the famous scene of that decisive contest which turned the tide of Southern successes and sealed the fate of the Confederacy, from July 1st to 4th, next; and the National government in co-operation with the State of Pennsylvania is making great preparations for the event. Plans for caring for 50,000 soldiers of both armies are being made.

It is expected that survivors of the war will wear their blue and gray uniforms and that the Southern battle flag will float side by side with the Stars and Stripes, so that the celebration will be significant of the final "bridging of the chasm" between North and South. The fare from Southern points to Washington and return will be one cent per mile, and the fare from Washington to Gettysburg and return is fixed at $5. Once at Gettysburg, the government will feed and shelter the veterans of each army without charge. Plans are made for caring for them from June 28th to July 7th, inclusive.

In the huge tented city there will be avenues lined with wall tents furnished with cots and accommodations for eight men each. The avenues will be lighted by electricity. Artesian wells are being bored to supply 1,000,000 gallons of pure water daily. Trains will carry soldiers directly to their destination at the camp, and inside the camp will be a temporary express office, telegraph and telephone office, newspaper, postoffice and commissary.

An idea of the immensity of the undertaking may be gleaned from the fact that there have been provided 6,000 tents, 48,000 cots, 12,000 tin wash basins, 13,000 candle burning lanterns, 75,000 candles, 7,000 galvanized iron buckets, and 50,000 mess kits, which means 50,000 enameled plates, and the same number of cups, knives and forks. These and the blankets will probably be given to the soldiers as souvenirs of their experiences. There will be 400 great army ranges, 800 cooks, 800 assistant cooks and 130 bakers. While it will cost the soldiers nothing, it will cost the government 30 cents a ration to feed them. There will be complete army hospital facilities and a full ambulance corps. Sick or well, every old soldier who goes will be cared for as well as if he were at home.

Many Confederates in Wilmington and throughout the State are looking forward to the trip with keen anticipation, particularly those who participated in the battle, many of whom "are going right where they stood in the battle, and where they charged up by that rock, across that hollow, don't you know?"

THE FEAST OF THE PASSOVER

Most Important Event in Hebraic Calendar Begins Tuesday

Tuesday being the 14th day of the first month in the Jewish calendar, called "Nison," the Feast of the Passover begins. This is the most solemn and important event of the year in the Jewish Church and will be very generally observed by the Hebrew people of Wilmington, not only in their Temple but also in their homes. It is ordained in commemoration of the deliverance of the Children of Israel from the bondage of the Egyptians and is a season of returning thanks to Jehovah.

During the feast, which lasts from the 14th to the 21st of the first month, all beer, liquors made from grain and and bread and any vessels which have contained such things, must be removed from the house, and no leaven of any kind is eaten during the time by strict Israelites. The "Sedar," or holy supper, is eaten the first evening, commemorating that evening in Egypt when, staff in hand and ready for journeying, the Hebrew ate in haste with bitter herbs the lamb commanded of the Lord.

The modern table is specially prepared. Three dishes stand out prominently. On one are three cakes called "Matzos;" on a second is the shank bone of the shoulder of a lamb, and a roasted egg; on the third is placed chervil of parsley and horse radish, and there is a cup of vinegar or salt water, and a mixture of ground almonds, cinnamon and apples. The bone is in memory of the "Passover offering." The egg brings to mind the offering in honor of the festival, and the bitter herbs are in memory of the bitter experiences of the fathers. The mixture reminds the people of the bricks and mortar of the Egyptians.

During the meal the master of the house recites prayers, tells of the deliverance of the Children of Israel, and returns thanks. The "Matzos" or unleavened bread, will be used extensively by strict observers of the feast, and there are other products which, while containing no leaven, make very appetizing dishes.

WINOCA TERRACE.

Opening of Handsome Sub-division in Eastern Section of City.

The public will be interested to know that Messrs. J. G. Wright & Son have just placed upon the market the handsome sub-division known as "Winoca Terrace", situated near 15th and Princess streets, directly on the car line of the Tidewater Power Company.

Just about 12 months ago, this vicinity was a barren waste of sand and unattractive hills and dales, a few negro huts and a few more weeds. Today, the magician's wand seems to have been passed over Winoca, and the sight now presented to the eye is one most pleasant to the lovers of Greater Wilmington.

With newly-paved 15th street, handsome entrance gates, avenues of privet and shade trees, rose vines and greens; asphalt walks completely surrounding the property, and level, attractive looking lots, Winoca is potentially perhaps the best building site in the city. With its enviable location on the brow of the hill, enjoying a full southern and southwestern exposure, it is certain to be cool as it is already beautiful. Building restrictions and an established buildng line assures uniformity and high-class residences, and with all city conveniences, car service and accessibility, Winoca bids fair to become thickly populated within a short while.

This is merely an instance of what progressive, energetic men can do for Greater Wilmington. It is a lesson which others may well study, and it is hoped that at no distant day, the other unsightly sections along Princess street—the most traveled street of the city—may be taken in hand and improved in like degree.

NEW REGISTRATION HEAVY

Sudden Flare-up of Interest in Approaching Primary Sends Many to the Books—Total Registration Reaches 3,589

When the registration books for the primary next Tuesday closed at 5 P. M. yesterday it was found that there was a total of 3,589 names recorded therein, that of this number, 784 were new names. The former registration was 2,805.

This indicates in no uncertain way the degree to which interest in the primary and election flared forth during the closing hours of registration, and it presages hard and fast work tomorrow among the voters.

For days there has appeared scarcely a ripple on the surface of the political waters. Apparently, there was very little interest. In fact, there has been abundant interest, as is shown by the 25 per cent gain in new registration. Tomorrow the depths will be stirred still more and Tuesday there will be a fierce battle of the ballots from the opening of the boxes until the closing.

With four candidates in the field, and with citizens varying in their second choice, there can hardly be more than a prediction based on personal hopes and wishes, as to the outcome of the mayoralty fight. If there were a candidate who towered far above the rest in strength and popularity, the result might be guessed at with some degree of accuracy, but the four candidates vary little, if any, in the degree of their hold on people, each possessing elements which appeal with peculiar force to some portion of the citizenship. Hence it will take the count Tuesday evening to settle the question of which two candidates shall be before the voters May 5th.

The candidates have without exception all been before the people for official position in the past, and likewise without exception, every one has served in official capacity. Mr. Martin O'Brien is a former Alderman. Mr. W. E. Springer has served as Mayor. Mr. B. C. Moore is now a Councilman, as is Mr. P. Q. Moore.

There are candidates for Councilmen galore and the prospects are that the vote will be cut up considerably. Every ward has abundant material from which to make a choice.

More and more spirit has been injected into the campaign and already there has been a bit of pretty rough talk and hints of grave charges. Among other rumors flying around is one to the effect that there are names on the registration books which have no business there. If this be true, the matter can be looked into easily enough by any one interested, for any illegal prospective voter may be challenged.

The registration, new and old, by wards and precinct as shown when the books closed at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon follow:

	New	Old	Total
First Ward
First Precinct	74	365	439
Second Precinct	56	169	225
Second Ward	113	437	550
Third Ward	126	548	674
Fourth Ward	119	402	521
Fifth Ward:
First Precinct	204	497	701
Second Precinct	92	387	479
Totals	784	2,805	3,589

Claims of "Common People"

Underneath everything that has been apparent to the eye, back and out of sight behind every discussion, every phase, every feature of the whole campaign is a feeling among the class that is usually referred to as the "common people," that they have not been enjoying their full share of the benefits and blessings of government, and they have been called upon repeatedly "to stand and stick together" in this fight. It has been charged that the high cost of living in the city is at least in part to be ascribed to the manner in which government has been conducted, and this is believed by a large number of men. Men who have been struggling to make ends meet believe that their interests have been lost in the shuffle. The tax rate, the bonded debt, the floating debt, and sums expended during two years—all these have been discussed more or less coherently and with more or less understanding, and as a result there is revolt among "the commons." What part this feeling is going to play in the campaign can only be gauged after the voting is over. There is unrest and dissatisfaction without a doubt. Whether it be reasonable, well-grounded, the result of statements and assertions that cannot be substantiated, makes no difference. The big fact is, the condition exists. It may play no part in the election, its influence may be dissipated; again it may strike somewhere and tear things up.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Only a Few of the Unwary Ones Appear to Answer for Offenses

The Recorder's court docket yesterday wasn't very heavy and the session lasted no great while. The heaviest sentence fell to Mose Sharpless, the Castle Haynes negro who was one of several engaged in a general fight Wednesday night. Thursday Substitute Recorder Harriss told him he could pay a fine of $250 and go free, but that being beyond him, the court sent him out to the camp for six months yesterday.

George Grady, colored, was charged with breaking into the warehouse of Armstrong & Rogers and taking therefrom five 50-pound cans of lard. The court heard the testimony and reserved judgment. Bond of $250 was required for his appearance Tuesday. Grady is also charged with totin' a gun.

J. E. Sykes violated the driving ordinance and was taxed $5 and the costs. Luke Smith pulled down a month for vagrancy. L. W. Shell, colored, who stands charged with assaulting his daughter, Lena, with a deadly weapon with intent to commit serious injury, was again in court, but the case was continued till Tuesday.

MERCHANTS MEET AT BEACH

Annual Convention of State Association to be Held at Oceanic Hotel —Indications Are for Large Attendance

Arrangements are being made by the local committee on entertainment for the annual meeting of the North Carolina Retail Merchants' Association, which will be held at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, June 17th, 18th and 19th. Reports that have been received here indicate a large attendance from all parts of the State. It is likely that there will be 150 delegates and a great many of these will be accompanied by members of their family.

Mr. E. H. Munson, one of Wilmington's leading merchants, is vice president of the association, being elected to this office at the meeting in Raleigh last year. He is also chairman of the local committee on arrangements for the gathering at Wrightsville Beach. The other members of the committee are President A. M. Hall, Secretary S. R. Keyes, Messrs. L. Stein, George Honnet, Joseph A. Price, of the Wilmington Association.

The full programme will not be in shape to be announced before about the 10th of May and probably later. The convention will be called to order on Tuesday night, June 17th, and the evening will be taken up for the most part in addresses of welcome and response. It is planned to have the address of welcome in behalf of the local merchants made by the president of the Wilmington association and in behalf of the city of Wilmington by the Mayor. The response will be made by some prominent delegate to the convention. On Wednesday morning the convention will get down to business. There will be another session in the afternoon and at night the visitors will be entertained at a dance at Lumina, given complimentary by the Tidewater Power Company. There will be two sessions on Thursday, morning and afternoon, and possibly a third, in the evening.

The North Carolina Retail Merchants' Association is composed of some of the leading merchants in the State and all men of much influence in their respective cities and towns. It has been a long time since the association was entertained at Wrightsville Beach and the local merchants are looking forward with much pleasure to the coming of the visiting merchants. Mr. Jas. Garibaldi, of Charlotte, is president; Mr. E. W. Berryhill, of Charlotte, is secretary, and Miss L. Maie Stephenson, also of Charlotte, is assistant secretary; Mr. Samuel Burton, of Asheville, is treasurer, and Mr. E. H. Munson, of Wilmington, is vice president.

STRAWBERRY MOVEMENT SLOW

Cool Weather Early in the Week Retarded Shipments of Car Lots

Although at this time last year not a car of strawberries had been moved out of the Chadbourn territory, yet conditions this year warranted a much larger movement than actually took place during the week just closed. Cool weather in the forepart of the week operated against shipments of car lots and from Monday until Friday night the movement was limited to 74 cars. Prices, which have been ranging from $4 to $6.50 per crate, have dropped to around $4. It was reported here yesterday that the first car of berries from the Norfolk belt would move northward yesterday, but the report was scarcely credited in view of information regarding conditions there which has been received from that territory.

The movement of lettuce continues, 45 cars going out during the past week. Reliable figures on the market appear difficult to obtain, there being so many conflicting reports. Lettuce is handled almost entirely on a commission basis, while strawberries are sold on the spot by the growers, and the price is therefore known; but handled as it is, lettuce prices cover a rather wide range.

No other truck is moving just now except a few peas by express. The potato outlook is said to be not as bright as last year owing to the fact that, as one man expressed it, "the whole world has been planted to them." From reports it would seem that all previous acreage records have been broken by the present Irish potato crop.

WINNER OF PRIZE

Irene Price Wrote the Essay on the "Alamo"—Sixth Grade Pupil

Mention was made in yesterday's Star that report had been made by the judges who were asked to decide upon the best essay, written by any pupil of the sixth, seventh, eighth or preparatory Freshman grades on the "Alamo," to the effect that it was awarded to the person whose non de plume was "Novella."

It has been found upon inquiry that this essay was written by Irene Price, 215 North Fifth street, who is a pupil in the sixth grade of the Hemenway school, of Mrs. Brock's division.

The essay is a model of neatness, beautiful penmanship, correct in spelling and conforms to the rules of competition and rhetoric, including paragraphing, punctuation, capitalization and dramatic narration.

Probably 150 essays in all were written, but of these about 75 were selected by the teachers and submitted to the judges, who were Mrs. Francis J. Sawyer and Mrs. Jackson Johnson, both of Brunswick county.

The name of the winner will be engraved upon the bronze plate and the picture taken to Miss Price's room at the Hemenway school and will be taken from room to room as she is advanced from one grade to another. The picture, "The Spirit of '76," may still be seen in DeRossett's window, Front street.

Messrs. Wilder & Metts and the school authorities appreciate the interest taken by Mrs. Sawyer and Mrs. Johnson in selecting the best essay and on behalf of the pupils and all concerned desire to thank them accordingly.

Naval Stores Handled in 1912

In connection with the formation of a new company to handle naval stores in Wilmington it will be interesting to know what the turpentine products amounted to in volume in 1912. From Secretary Branch, of the Chamber of Commerce, it is learned that there were 7,043 casks of spirits; 5,900 casks of crude; 11,127 of tar, and 32,231 of rosin.

COMPARISONS.

The present municipal administration has been the subject of considerable criticism, during the past few days, in comparison with a former city government; and, in our opinion, some of these comparisons have been quite unjust and misleading.

In the first place, it is error to suppose that a balance in the city's treasury is the criterion of success of any given administration. If the present Council had made no expenditures during its term of office, in the way of improvements, the city would now have a large balance to its credit in the banks. All will concede that such would have been an exceedingly unwise policy. It is not the function of any department of government to tax the people in order that it may have a bank account, but its budget must be commensurate with a wise and profitable expenditure. We think the city of Wilmington can better afford to have its money in the form of assets—improvements yielding a benefit to the whole community—than to hoard it in banks.

It is reported than when ex-Mayor Wm. E. Springer's term of office expired, he left $57,739 in the city treasury. The logic of this situation is bad. If Mr. Springer made every expenditure that was necessary, then the tax-rate during his term of office was too high, for the city levied $57,739.00 more than it needed. Conversely, if there were any improvements which the city needed, it was error not to have made them, for the city had the money with which to defray the expenses. Both horns of the dilemma establish bad business judgment on somebody's part.

CARD FROM MRS. TOON

Editor of The Star: I desire to take advantage of your invaluable medium to thank those who so kindly assisted me on Tuesday last, April 15th, on the occasion of the first anniversary commemorating the Titanic.

I feel I am specially obligated to Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, who took charge of the exercises, and whose eloquent invocation will be long cherished by all present.

No less so am I indebted to Rev. F. B. Clausen, of St. Paul's Lutheran church who, with no time for preparation, delivered one of the most profound discourses that has ever delighted a Wilmington audience.

Neither must I forget Rev. Rexford, of Bladen Street Methodist church, who pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, of the Red Cross Society, gave us a short discourse, which was appreciated by every one present, and added very much to the completeness of the programme.

To Mrs. Longfellow, who delighted us with "Lead Kindly Light," I owe a debt of gratitude.

I also desire to thank Messrs. Howard and Wells, of the Bijou Theatre, for their kindly interest in arranging at their theatre an interesting programme, and for a substantial contribution to the Red Cross.

To the Tidewater Power Co., I wish to express my appreciation for a "special" and other favors.

The Polvogt Company, who sent out their own decorator, drew from everyone expressions of admiration for the beautiful color blending of bunting and flags on the pier.

I cannot forget Mr. J. H. Hinton for his donation of the Seashore Hotel and the pier, where the exercises were held.

The public, who filled a train to the ceremony, has my undying gratitude. To it I desire to say that my whole intention in instituting the Titanic exercises, was for the purpose of making Wilmington better known, and to cause her to be more spoken of as a city first in sympathy, as well as first in other things.

And lastly, I beg to proffer The Star my heartfelt acknowledgment of generous space and kindly words.

E. MAY GLENN TOON.

Interment of Capt. McIntire.

At noon yesterday the remains of Capt. R. M. McIntire were laid away to rest in Oakdale cemetery, Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure conducting the short but impressive service, assisted by Rev. W. J. McKay, brother-in-law of the deceased. While of a private nature, a number of the family's friends attended and grieved with those who were losing sight for all time, but not for eternity, of a beloved husband and father. All the family was present, the remaining members having arrived. "How Firm a Foundation" and "What a Friend", etc., were sweetly sung above the old soldier's grave, and Rev. Mr. McKay read, "It is not death to die." Very pretty floral designs covered the grave.

REV. DR. MILTON WILL MAKE THE ADDRESS MEMORIAL DAY

The Cape Fear Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held their regular monthly business meeting at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the W. L. I. armory. The usual routine business was transacted. It was with distinct pleasure that the Daughters learned from their Memorial Day Committee that Rev. Dr. W. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, had consented to deliver the address on Memorial Day, May 10th. The following ladies were named as the wreath committee for the month: Mrs. W. W. Atkinson, chairman; Mrs. T. E. Sprunt, Mrs. Eliza Metts, Miss Janie Strange and Mrs. G. G. Thomas.

Wilmington is so rapidly progressing and enlarging its borders that in the near future what is now woods full of wild shrubbery will be replaced by the improvements which come with the march of progress, and these large tracts of woodland will be converted into residential sections, which means the destruction of all the beautiful shrubbery native to this section. Large areas of tangled masses of the yellow jasmine, woodbine, honeysuckle and bamboo yet exist, however, and those who love these things should plant them now before it is forever too late. The Civic Department of Sorosis for a small sum will undertake to furnish these plants together with sweet myrtle, a fragrant evergreen, for the purpose of encouraging the planting of shrubbery before it becomes too scarce, or is gone entirely, so that in the years to come one may see in profusion in and around the city what the woods once held, but hold no more, and what will greatly add to the attractiveness and beauty of Wilmington.

EXCURSION TO ORTON PLANTATION SATURDAY.

Again the friends and supporters of the Ministering Circle of King's Daughters will have an opportunity to spend a day at Orton Plantation, through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. James Sprunt, who have offered their beautiful place to this Circle for a picnic to be given on Saturday, April 26th.

All members of the Circle have for sale tickets reading:

Picnic at Orton
Ministering Circle of King's Daughters
District Nurse Fund
Saturday, April 26, 1913.
Price $1.00.

Including round trip on steamer Wilmington and lunch served at Orton Plantation.

Boat leaves foot of Princess street at 9:30 A. M.

Those who were fortunate enough to enjoy a similar occasion under the auspices of these ladies two years ago will recall with so much pleasure the beauty of the place and the day, and the delightful luncheon served in the spacious grounds, that they will undoubtedly want to go again. In this connection, it is well to state that the tickets are limited to 200, which makes it obvious that it would be wise for those who intend to go to secure their tickets promptly.

In addition to assisting so worthy a cause, those attending this picnic will receive more than the value of the money expended.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Recorder John J. Furlong returned yesterday from Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, where he spent the past ten days or two weeks.

—There is no trace, apparently, of Levi Myers, the 12-year-old mulatto boy who has been missing from his home since last Tuesday. It is thought that he has not voluntarily disappeared in this style and his people believe that he has either been lured away from the city or else kidnapped.

—Mr. R. L. Burton has invented a letter file that from a blue print sketch looks as if it would fill a want of the business world because of its convenience and simplicity. He has applied for a patent and will manufacture the files. Mr. Wm. Gregersen is associated with him in the venture.

—Yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer: "After a visit to Richmond and Wilmington, Mr. Herman Heller is back in the city. He went to Wilmington as a Grand Representative of the Raleigh Council of the Grand Council meeting of the Royal Arcanum. He reports a delightful visit, saying that the people of Wilmington showed the greatest hospitality."

TRADES COUNCIL BAZAAR

Attended Last Night by Several Hundred People—Entertainment

The first annual bazaar of the Wilmington Trades Council was held last night in the spacious Woolvin Hall and was attended by not less than 400 ladies and gentlemen. The offerings embraced a wide range of articles and were bid off in quite lively fashion. Mr. Jerry Carew acted as auctioneer. The receipts will exceed $200 which go into the general fund of the Wilmington Trades Council.

Following the auction, there was an enjoyable entertainment during which music of a high class was furnished by the Johnson-Scelzi orchestra. Mr. W. B. Daniels furnished excellent buck and wing dancing and Mr. Freeman Yopp gave impersonations that were fine, the audience encoring a number of times. Mr. Ira G. Upchurch explained why the Union Label is used. The concluding event was an enjoyable hop in which quite a number of couples participated.

Following are the firms which made donations of various articles for the bazaar:

L. W. Davis & Co., J. W. H. Fuchs, Platt-Haar-Gaylord, Globe Baking Co., W. J. Bradshaw & Co., Beehive, Dlugin Bros., props., J. H. Rehder & Co., Standard Quality Store, Stewart & Otterson, Wilmington Shoe Co., David Co., Wilmington Hardware Co., Atlantic Paint & Varnish Co., W. Munroe & Co., Jacobi Hardware Co., Standard Supply Co., Peck & Holloway, Munson & Co., Fleet-Davis Co., Bijou Theatre, Howard & Wells, props., Walter C. Boesch, Will Rehder, florist, Krounche Confection Co., Wilmington Cigar Co., Baxter's Place, Crescent Cigar Store, Cocoa-Cola Bottling Works, Mathews Candy Co., A. G. Warren Ice Cream Co., Warren Bakery, Farris Bakery, Ira G. Upchurch, B. May, P. Q. Moore, Martin O'Brien, W. E. Springer & Co., Meyer Marble & Granite Works, Carolina Cut Stone Co., Tucker's Wilmington Granite & Marble Works, Tidewater Power Co., Keen's Organ & Piano Co., Gem Studio, Eureka Dye Works, Elvington's Pharmacy, Star Wall Paper Co., Waverly Furniture Co., Jackson & Bell, J. F. Woolvin. Among out-of-town donators were Larned, Carter & Co., Detroit, Mich.; Durham Duplex Razor Co., Robert Harriss & Bros., Reidsville, N. C.; American Federation of Labor, Washington, D. C.

The bazaar was in the hands of a special committee on arrangements, appointed by the Trades Council, and was composed of Messrs. J. A. Gillerlain, chairman; Leon S. White, W. H. McCartney, T. G. Grotgen and J. Dana Jones.

The Trades Council is very appreciative of the favors received from all who helped to make the bazaar such a pleasing success.

DR. ALDERMAN MAY RETIRE.

Belief That Dr. Mitchell Will Head Virginia University.

A report is said to be pretty general in Virginia that Dr. S. C. Mitchell, who is leaving the presidency of South Carolina University to accept that of the Medical College of Virginia, is likely to become president of the University of Virginia. The report is of interest in Wilmington because Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, who is a native of this city, is the present head of the Virginia University. A Richmond dispatch to the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot says:

"It is generally believed here that Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, who has just been elected president of the Medical College of Virginia, will shortly succeed Dr. Edwin A. Alderman as president of the University of Virginia. Dr. Alderman has been very ill for some time and is now absent from the university on indefinite leave. Some of his friends think he may never be able to resume the duties of his office.

"The Medical College of Virginia will in all probability soon become a part of the University of Virginia. It will then, of course, have no need for a separate president and knowing this, it is not believed that Dr. Mitchell would resign the presidency of the University of South Carolina to become the head of a school which may leave its individuality at an early date, unless he has good reason to believe that he will be offered the presidency of the University of Virginia."

DEATH OF MRS. ANNIE HARPER.

Wife of Capt. J. T. Harper Passed Yesterday After Long Illness.

Mrs. Annie Sophia Harper, wife of Capt. J. T. Harper, died at the residence, No. 1 Church street, yesterday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock, after ill health of several months' duration. During the past few days her condition has been such that the family realized fully that she could last but little longer, and hence her death was not unexpected, but was nevertheless a great shock to her loved ones and friends.

Mrs. Harper was the daughter of Jesse G. Drew, of Brunswick county, and was born January 20th, 1844, hence was something more than 69 years of age. She was married in 1865 to George Price, of Smithfield, and one son survives that marriage. She wedded Capt. Harper September 14, 1871, and for many years lived at Southport, but in 1885 the family moved to Wilmington. All of the children were with her when the final summons came. These are Capt. Jesse D. Price and Dr. Chas. T. Harper, of Wilmington, and Mr. Fred Harper, of Virginia; Mrs. W. A. French and Mrs. J. J. Darby, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Ernest Vitou, of Goldsboro. Besides these she is survived by her husband and one brother, Mr. Sam S. Drew, of this city. All have the deep sympathy of an unusually large circle of friends in the city and in numerous other places.

Mrs. Harper was a lifelong member of St. Phillip's Episcopal church of Southport, and after services from the late residence tomorrow morning at 9:30 conducted by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, this city, the remains will be taken to Southport for interment.

ANOTHER SEARCH AND SEIZURE.

This Time Whiskey is Taken from a White Man, John McKinney.

Yesterday another search and seizure warrant was taken out by the police and this time the person most interested was a white man, John McKinney, No. 1136 South Front street.

Officer T. M. Hall made affidavit that he believed the man in question had more than the legal limit of whiskey on hand and that it was for illegal purposes, whereupon he was sent to the place and found a keg of two and a half gallons capacity, that had never been opened. He brought it back on his motorcycle. He reported, also, that there were empty bottles with the keg in the house, of sizes ranging from half pints to quarts, and was instructed to get them, as cumulative evidence. Yesterday afternoon he and H. Mack Godwin went down and got them.

It was further stated that there were several barrels of "empties" in the man's yard. No arrest was made.

This is the second time the new State law has been invoked. Discussing it yesterday, it was remarked that if the officers all over the State watched express and freight offices and other means or sources of supply, and enforced the new search and seizure law thoroughly, it would mean that the end of the blind tiger's days had come. A man may have over a gallon of whiskey on hand and not be selling it, and the fact that it is seized doesn't prove that he is selling it, but the law says that if he has over a gallon on hand it is to be presumed that he is selling it, and that the same shall be seized. If the person having it is found guilty, the whiskey is to be destroyed.

Services at Lebanon Chapel.

Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, announces that he expects to hold services and preach at Lebanon Chapel, Wrightsville Sound, every Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The chapel was lately instituted by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. This afternoon at 4 o'clock Dr. Milton will conduct a children's service, followed immediately by the service and sermon for grown people. An ample number of teachers has been secured for Sunday School classes, and all the children between Bradley's Creek and the Sound are invited to attend every Sunday afternoon. The chapel has been closed for years, but was recently renovated and beautified by Mr. Pembroke Jones and it is hoped to make it the center of religious work and interest in the neighborhood.

To Study Wilmington Methods.

The Columbia State in its issue of Friday carried an item stating that the sanitary committee of the Chamber of Commerce had determined to start a campaign for a cleaner Columbia, and to inaugurate a war to the death on the fly and mosquito. To lay plans for this a committee was named, and The State says that it will very probably be sent to Wilmington to study the methods employed by the health authorities of this city.

Juniors Defeat Delgado.

The Wilmington Juniors defeated the Delgado Sluggers yesterday afternoon by a score of 11 to 5, and were duly elated thereby. The features of the game were the pitching of Canady for the Juniors, and the batting of Greenwald and Campbell. Batteries for the Junior were Canady and Craighead; for Delgado, Carter "and six twirlers" as the youngsters who reported the game put it.

Bathing at the Beach.

While the work of remodelling Lumina is not yet complete, the bath houses will be open today for those who may wish to enjoy a dip in the ocean. On warm days surf bathing is already being indulged in quite extensively at the beach. The surf bathing at Lumina has already been one of the features at that pavilion. Lumina now as over 300 bath rooms, 50 new rooms having been added during the past Winter.

VOTERS Of Wilmington!

IN AN ADVERTISEMENT IN YESTERDAY'S STAR BY ONE OF THE CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR APPEARS A LIST OF THE NEW INVESTMENTS OF THE CITY OF WILMINGTON, THE LARGEST BEING "BLOCK OF CITY PROPERTY FOR STABLES, $13,500.00. DO THE VOTERS OF WILMINGTON KNOW THE HISTORY OF THE PURCHASE OF THAT PROPERTY? IN BOOK 69, PAGE 59, OFFICE OF REGISTER OF DEEDS, IS TO BE FOUND DEED FROM THE WILMINGTON TOBACCO WAREHOUSE COMPANY TO A. W. PATE FOR WHAT IS KNOWN AS THE "TOBACCO WAREHOUSE PROPERTY," THE DEED BEING DATED MAY 17TH, 1912, AND THE CONSIDERATION $10,000.00. IN BOOK 69, PAGE 60—VERY NEXT DEED—AND SAME DATE, MAY 17TH—IS DEED FROM A. W. PATE AND WIFE TO THE CITY OF WILMINGTON FOR THE IDENTICAL PROPERTY PURCHASED FROM THE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE COMPANY, AND THE CONSIDERATION $13,500.00. DIRECTORS OF THE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE COMPANY SAY ALL THAT COMPANY RECEIVED WAS $10,000.00 AND THAT THE PROPERTY HAD BEEN ON THE MARKET FOR A LONG TIME AT $10,000.00. ANOTHER REAL ESTATE DEALER SAYS THAT A FEW DAYS BEFORE THE PROPERTY WAS PURCHASED BY THE CITY HE HAD OFFERED THE PROPERTY AT $10,000.00 TO THE CITY OF WILMINGTON. WAS THAT DEAL EXTRAVAGANCE?

Was that the proper manner to handle the funds of the city of Wilmington by those delegated to handle the fund? The city owns a large lot at the corner of Fourth and Princess streets that had been used for stables for some years. Why was it necessary all at once to change location and to pay a real estate dealer $13,500 for property purchased by him the same day for $10,000? Who was responsible for that deal?

Voters! Look at Book 68, page 511, Register of Deeds office, and see if one candidate for Mayor did not purchase property in Block 262, facing 130 feet on Hanover street, and between Second and Third streets, on June 17th, 1912; see if another candidate for Mayor does not appear on Block book, page 263, as owning part of Lot 5, Block 263, also facing on Hanover street. Hanover street has been paved from Fourth to Nutt—Brunswick street. There are comparatively few residences on Hanover street. Why was it so necessary to expend such a large sum of money in making so many improvements on that street when there are dozens of blocks in First ward, and every other section of the city, that it is highly important should be improved?

Have any streets in the First ward been paved with permanent paving during the present administration, except Brunswick and Hanover streets?

In an advertisement appearing this morning, great stress was laid on the loss of revenue from near-beer tax, and prior to that, revenue from liquor tax, and that given as one reason for the increase in tax rate. The writer did not explain that the assessment of the property in the past four years has been increased $1,552,000 and at the present tax rate the income of the city from that source alone is $26,000.00 per year. The loss of near-beer tax for the years 1909 and 1911 — two years — is placed at $20,035.00. The INCOME OF THE CITY OWING TO INCREASED ASSESSMENT FOR THE TWO YEARS OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION HAS BEEN $46,000.00. Generally, when the asesssment is increased it means a reduction in tax rate, but such has not been the case with the present administration.

When the fight was on for the $900,000.00 bond issue for water, sewerage and streets, it was generally represented to the voter that as about $40,000.00 was being expended annually out of current funds for streets that the amount would be sufficient to more than take care of the interest on the bonds for street improvements, and it was with that understanding that the bonds were voted. It was never represented that there would have to be an increase in tax rate sufficient to take care of all interest over and above what was being expended at that time.

They say the Board of Audit and Finance on the occasion said funds must not be spent for building new streets instead of repairing old streets. Now, voters, was not that an awful offense? And another time, that the services of a rock weigher should be dispensed with. VOTERS! RUN YOUR EYE OVER THE LIST OF THOSE ON THE CITY PAY ROLL AT THE PRESENT TIME AND SEE IF THERE ARE ANY OFFICES THAT COULD BE DISPENSED WITH? IF THE BOARD OF AUDIT AND FINANCE RAISED OBJECTION TO THE SMALL MATTERS MENTIONED, WHAT ON EARTH WOULD THAT BOARD HAVE SAID HAD IT BEEN IN EXISTENCE DURING THE PAST TWO YEARS, AND BEEN CONFRONTED WITH SOME OF THE PROJECTSTHAT HAVE BEEN " PUT ACROSS?"

ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW

WILLIAM E. SPRINGER AS MAYOR OF WILMINGTON, ENFORCED NOT ONE LAW, BUT ALL LAWS, AND THERE IS NO MAN WHO CAN DENY THIS AND ADHERE TO THE FACTS.

AND THE LAW WAS ENFORCED WHEN SPRINGER WAS MAYOR, NOT PART OF THE TIME, BUT ALL OF THE TIME. WHY DID IT TAKE THE HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY ONE AND A HALF YEARS TO ENFORCE THE LAW WHEN THE IDENTICAL LAW WAS ON THE STATUTE BOOKS ALL OF THE TIME?

Those in a position to know say that WITH PROPER MANAGEMENT THE CURRENT EXPENSES OF THE CITY CAN BE CUT DOWN ANNUALLY BETWEEN $25,000.00 AND $50,000.00, not to speak of money that can be saved when it comes to making contracts not strictly under the budget. Is there a man in the race for mayor who will come nearer doing this than William E. Springer, for the mayor will be a powerful factor in the management of the city affairs during the next two years—the head of any government is a power in running the affairs of that government.

HAS THERE BEEN A MAYOR IN WILMINGTON IN MANY YEARS WHO HAS MANAGED THE CITY'S FINANCIAL AFFAIRS BETTER THAN WILLIAM E. SPRINGER, OR WHO MORE STRICTLY ENFORCED ALL LAWS.

During the present administration $1,100,000.00 has been expended, and a floating debt—call it what you may, but the amount that will be left on the tax payers of the city in addition to all bonds—will be nearly $200,000.00. If the city of Wilmington is steered in the same course during the next two years where will the tax rate go, and what banking institution will loan this city the money to meet its regular obligations?

COTTON MARKET AGAIN LOWER

Weak and Unsettled Under Renewal of Heavy Liquidation and General Selling—Liverpool a Shade Better.

New York, April 19.—The cotton market was weak and unsettled again this morning under a renewal of heavy liquidation and general selling. The close was steady, but from 7 to 12 points net lower.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 2 to 7 points under overnight selling orders which had evidently been inspired by yesterday's sharp break, a bearish construction of the visible supply figures, recent favorable weather in the South, and talk of increased spot offerings. The initial break carried prices into new low ground for the movement and stop orders were uncovered in some volume. Some thought they saw signs of Liverpool selling and rumors that the English straddle interest was liquidating its long near-month contracts added to the nervousness of the market. Covering was active enough to check the decline around 11.63 for May and July, but only 2 and 3 point bulges occurred and the market closed at the lowest point of the day. The decline on May contracts carried the market to the lowest level it had reached since last Autumn or since that position sold at 13 cents on the 16th of last December. On the break of last January May sold as low as 11.69, but rallied to 12.50 early in February.

Liverpool was a little better than due on May this morning, but fully met the local decline on other months and private cables said that trade had become very quiet in Manchester with indications that India had been well filled up with goods. The weather news was generally favorable and the forecasts were for continued fair weather over Sunday.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 12.15; do. gulf, 12.40; sales, 102 bales.

Cotton futures closed steady.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

Absorption of Interest in Question of Interesting Capital—Not Attractive to Investors in Large Numbers—Reserve

New York, April 19.—The absorption of the financial community in the question of enlisting new capital continued throughout the week. An extraordinary degree of attention was given to the course of the new St. Paul 4 1-2 per cent bonds because of its acceptance as barometer of the new conditions to which other borrowers must conform.

The result cannot be said to fix definitely the new investment basis or to break the deadlock which has existed between investors and seekers of capital. Active dealings in the St. Paul bonds did not prevent a drop to below the price of the public offering. The announcement that 20 per cent of the issue was left unheld when subscriptions were closed contrasted with heavy over-subscriptions of successful bond offerings in propitious times.

The inference was plain that the rate of return, high as it is compared with older bond issues, did not attract investors in effective numbers. On the other hand dissatisfaction was shown by corporate borrowers, which found expression in warnings of the necessity of curtailing outlay for extension and improvements to meet the situation. It was assumed that only railroads with half completed improvements or with floating debts and maturing note issues to be funded would follow St. Paul in offerings long-term bonds at present prices.

Reduction of the Bank of England official discount rate from 5 to 4 1-2 per cent was hailed with satisfaction as an indication of easy money conditions. Foreign financial commentators while expecting a further early reduction in the England bank rate to 4 per cent are not sanguine of any marked decline of money rates. The admitted policy of the central government's purpose to build up reserves in preparation of coming Autumn needs. The programme for armaments, with the financing of the Balkan war debts, show formidable requirements.

Returns of National banks of April 4th show a low stage of reserves among the interior banks and the likelihood of calls on reserve centers to replenish them. Weakness in pig iron having become more pronounced the effect on sentiment was disseminated all through the trade. In the stock market the movement was slow and dragging with heavy undertone.

The statement of actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $19,085,850 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $4,181,400 from last week.

STOCK PRICES UNCHANGED

Level Virtually Same as Friday—Canadian Pacific Shows Exceptional Heaviness—Easing of Money Rates.

New York, April 19.—The level of prices was virtually unchanged by today's trading in stocks. Reading closed 1-2 to 1 point above yesterday's last price and Amalgamated half a point below. These changes represented the extreme movement among the active stocks. Steel's range was 1-8. The last showed a tendency toward heaviest in the early trading, but bear operators found that they were not able to bring about any general selling and subsequently bought back their stocks.

Canadian Pacific showed exceptional heaviness, opening two points off owing to the sharp break in London before the opening here. The stock rallied, but later sold off again. There was heavy trading in Mexican Petroleum because of the increase in the dividend rate and first sales were recorded as 2,000 shares at 66 1-4 to 66 compared with yesterday's close of 65 3-4. The stock was supplied at the higher prices and quickly sold off.

As had been forecasted by the easing of money rates yesterday and the known movements of currency during the week, the banks were shown in the weekly statement to have strengthened their position although the actual cash gain, amounting to $3,317,000, was smaller than was indicated. Loans were scaled down considerably and over $4,000,000 was added to the excess cash reserve.

Although the large industries in certain parts of the country are still feeling the effect of the flood, the business outlook as reported by the mercantile agencies in their weekly reviews is bright. In some lines there was noted a growing tendency toward conservatism on account of pending tariff changes.

Bonds eased off slightly. Total sales, par value, $1,005,000. Panama 3s coupon declined 1-8c on call on the week. Total sales stock 79,500 shares.

IT IS YOUR KIDNEYS

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Wilmington Citizen Gives a Valuable Hint

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak and aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the experience of a resident of Wilmington who has tested Doan's.

Miss Mattie Hodges, 609 E. Fifth street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as strongly today as I did some years ago when I publicly told of my experience with them. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured from Bellamy's Drug Store and they gave me more relief from kidney trouble than any other medicine I had ever taken. I have since been well and my kidneys and back have not troubled me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ELECTION NOTICE.

FOR BONDS FOR ROADS and BRIDGES

The Board of Commissioners of New Hanover County in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly of North Carolina, passed at its 1913 session, entitled "An Act to empower the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover County to issue bonds for road improvement and to construct bridges," and by virtue of the power therein given, do hereby call and give notice of an election to be held by the qualified voters of New Hanover County on Tuesday, May 27th, 1913, between the hours of sunrise and sunset, to determine whether New Hanover County, North Carolina, shall issue $100,000.00 of its bonds, with interest coupons attached, to continue and complete the repairing, construction and improving the public roads and bridges in said County.

At this election the ballots tendered and cast by the qualified electors shall have written or printed upon them "For continuing and completing the construction and improvement of the public roads and bridges of the County," or "Against continuing and completing the construction and improvement of the public roads and bridges of the County."

All qualified electors who favor the issue of said bonds shall vote for "For continuing and completing the construction and improvement of the public roads and bridges of the County," and all qualified electors who are opposed to the issue of said bonds shall vote "Against continuing and completing the construction and improvement of the public roads and bridges of the County."

For the purpose of this election, as authorized by the said Act, the said Board of Commissioners have ordered, and do hereby order, a new registration for said election, and the following are designated as the polling places in the several townships, precincts and wards, and the persons hereinafter named have been appointed as the Registrars and Judges of Election in the said several townships, precincts and wards.

WILL OF MORGAN MADE PUBLIC

Then follows provisions "for Lacy Eldredge Lee, for Florence M. Rhett, during many years a member of my household, and for Ethel Bangs Wallace."

Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Wallace, old family friends, receive each the income for life of a trust fund of $100,000. Miss Rhett receives an annual income for life of $10,000. Further personal bequeaths are as follows:

To Mrs. Mary G. McIlvaine, of London, a life income of $25,000 per annum; to J. Beaver Webb, an outright legacy of $250,000.

Dr. James W. Markoe, a warm friend of Mr. Morgan's and for many years his personal physician, is to receive for life and his wife after him, if she survives him, an annual income of $25,000.

Miss Bella DaCosta Green, "who has long been my efficient librarian" receives an outright legacy of $50,000. Miss Ada Thurston, assistant librarian, receives an outright legacy of $10,000. To Capt. W. B. Porter, (commander of the Corsair), my sailing master, if he shall be in my employment at the time of my death, the sum of $15,000 in recognition of his long and faithful service, is given. After this there is given "to Charles W. King, for many years my private secretary, the sum of $25,000 as a mark of my appreciation of faithful service."

An unusual clause follows, showing Mr. Morgan's thought for all the people who have been near him in his daily work. This clause reads as follows:

"To each of the employes at the time of my death of my firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., of the city of New York, except Charles W. King, above named, an amount equal to one year's salary of such employe at such time; to each person who shall survive me who was at the time of the dissolution of my firm of J. S. Morgan & Co., of London, an employe thereof, an amount equal to one year's salary of such employe at the time for such dissolution."

Mr. Morgan's sentiment for a few of his old and intimate friends is shown in the clause which provides that there shall be bequeathed "to each member of the Corsair Club at the time of my death, as a souvenir of myself and as a token of my personal affection for them, a piece of silver of the value of one thousand dollars, to be selected and purchased for the purpose by the executors of my will."

When he was on the witness stand, at Washington, only a few weeks before his death, Mr. Morgan made several impressions going to indicate his confidence in his business partners. This feeling is apparently reiterated in articles in the will which read as follows:

"It has frequently happened that securities, real estate and other property belonging to or connected with my business firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., and my former firm of J. S. Morgan & Co., have been taken or stood in my name. I, therefore, direct and empower my said executors and trustees to assign, convey and transfer to said firms, respectively, or to their respective nominee or nominees, any securities, real estate or property standing in my name which all my partners of said firm respectively surviving me shall united in declaring in writing to be the property of or connetced with the business of said firms, respectively."

Mr. Morgan having thus provided for his immediate relatives, various friends, employes, servants, charitable objects, etc., next declares that the residue of his property shall be bequeathed to his son, John Pierpont Morgan, Jr. to "his heirs, for his and their use forever." And the will also provides that if J. P. Morgan, Jr., had died before his father then young Morgan's son, Junius Spencer Morgan, Jr., would have become the residuary legatee.

To his executors alerady named, Mr. Morgan gives the widest latitude, directing that no security shall be required of any of them, giving them full power to sell and convey all property, whether real or personal, belonging to the estate, to sell securities and reinvest the moneys held under the trusts of the will, etc.

FIRE AT WARSAW.

Two Stores Destroyed Last Night at Late Hour—Insurance.

A long distance telephone last night tells of a rather destructive fire in Warsaw last night about 11 o'clock. A barber shop and market in a brick store belonging to Mr. H. F. Peirce and another brick store, owned by H. L. Stevens, Esq., and occupied by Hazlett Brothers, were completely destroyed. The damage could not be estimated this morning, but it is stated that the losses are pretty well covered by insurance.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

Banquet in Village Lodge at Atkinson Friday Night

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., April 19.—The Woodmen of the World banqueted in the village lodge hall Friday evening from 8:30 to 12 o'clock. The hall was artistically decorated. In the center of the table was an oak stump partly covered with ivy and a miniature axe, the stump bearing the name and emblem of the camp. State Senator E. A. Hawes, Jr., acted as toastmaster and a most tempting menu was served.

Juggling Two Pairs of Glasses.

Is often to indicate old age. Our Kryptok Invisible Double Vision Lenses obviate the need for two pairs of glasses by combining all ranges of vision in one pair. And because the lens is ground from one piece there is nothing to distinguish Kryptoks from a single lens. We have had the pleasure of fitting many of our patients with Kryptoks in Shur-on mountings. Possibly the logic of Kryptok lenses appeals to you. If it does we wish you'd come in. Dr. Vineberg, the Eye Specialist, Masonic Temple. Eyes tested free.

ALL WILMINGTON Building and Loan Associations are good. Through this progressive Building and Loan thousands of Wilmingtonians have become owners of their homes on easy terms, while thousands of others have saved money that they would not have saved in any other way. The Co-operative Building and Loan Association is one of the very largest of the associations. It has grownsteadily, rapidly, and each six months opens a new series of about one thousand shares. The Co-operative has its office open from 8 A. M. to 7 P. M. every day in the week. It has two secretaries and treasurers, two attorneys. This is to aid its shareholders and let them get money when they want it—quick. The new series (29th) will open Saturday, May 3rd, 1913. Now, right now, is the time to speak for shares. The Co-operative has a free book explaining building and loan. Let us give you one. Co-operative Building and Loan Assocation, Jos. H. Hinton, President; B. C. Moore, Vice-President; Thos. H. TO THE WHITE VOTERS OF WILMINGTON.

Shall our Police Department under the incoming administration be made up of White Men or mixed with "Niggers?" Only a short time ago, when there was so much comment among our citizns regarding the "nigger" policemen, Mr. B. C. Moore explained that the colored men employed were not paid by the City, but by private parties. This is not sufficient to convince the voters. Who are the private parties Mr. Moore refers to? Are they afraid to stand up before the people and acknowledge that they with Mr. Moore are using "Nigger" detectives to send White Men to the roads?

To-Morrow Is "Judgment Day"

For Tomorrow We Place on the Market the Famous Development at Fifteenth and Princess Streets

WINOCA TERRACE

¶ And Tomorrow Is the Day For You to Follow Your Judgment and Buy a Lot.

¶ Healthful, cool and breezy; situated on the brow of a hill, no location in the city is more delightful. All lots leveled, graded and drained by the most modern methods of pipe drains, recently installed. Beautiful avenues of shade trees, shrubs and roses; asphalt walks; water, gas, electric and sewerage connections guaranteed.

¶ Four houses are already in process of construction, and many more will be built in the next few months.

¶ Each lot is of good width and depth, and is sold with building restrictions, affording valuable protection to the home-seeker.

¶ An established building line will assure uniformity and beauty.

Why Pay Rent? Rent receipts are good to start a fire with, nothing else. We can sell these lots on Easy Terms at Reasonable Prices. Go out and investigate TODAY! You will find many of your friends on the ground--and tomorrow we will write your deed.

Do Not Delay! Think of the opportunities you have neglected in the past—and get busy. This is strictly a high class development, and you can feel assured of only the best neighbors. We have spent thousands of dollars and months of time in developing this property, and we can't afford to sell to any but the best element.

Telephone 342 and we will send an automobile for you—take you out, show you over the property—and you will do the rest.

WE WON'T ANNOY YOU WE WON'T HAVE TO

Yours, For a Home,

Armour AND Company

Want You to Visit Their Handsome New Branch House

Wilmington, N. C., Monday, April 21st, 10 A. M. to 9 P. M.

17 and 19 South Water Street

SPECIAL DISPLAY

of government inspected meats in the carcass and special cuts, Smoked Meats, Dry and Salt Meats, Sausage, Beef Extract, Star Hams and Bacon, Butter, Eggs and Cheese, in fact, all kinds of animal products.

EXHIBITS

of Veribest Pork and Beans, Canned Meats, Mince Meat, Simon Pure Lard, Armour's Grape Juice, Soda Fountain Supplies, Armour's Soaps, Toilet Goods, Lighthouse Cleanser.

AN EXHIBIT OF VAST EDUCATIONAL VALUE

Next Monday the doors of the new Wilmington branch of Armour & Company will open to the public.

And it is but fitting that you should be invited to inspect the products of the world's largest packing plant, proving for yourself that Armour goods are justly entitled to the enviable position of superiority.

Neither money nor pains has been spared in the construction of the Wilmington branch house.

Perfect sanitary features, absolute cleanliness, as you will note throughout the local branch, are but the reflection of the conditions in the nine largest and cleanest packing plants comprising Armour & Company, the world's greatest packing institution. We want you to see for yourself that the products made by Armour & Company are entitled to your consideration.

The finest cuts of fresh meats of every description will confront you in the large cooler room, every carcass bearing the label of the Government Inspector, insuring healthful meat.

You will have the opportunity of testing Armour's Veribest Canned Meats, Pork and Beans and a Mincemeat exhibit of vital interest.

See our display of Poultry, Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

You will be delighted with the exhibits of Simon Pure Lard and Star Hams and Bacon.

Perhaps you don't know that Armour's delicious Grape Juice, made in the heart of the New York and Michigan Grape districts is a factory entirely separated from the meat packing plants.

You'll learn that Armour's Toilet and Laundry Soaps form one of the most interesting displays of the purest soaps manufactured.

The famous Armour's Lighthouse Cleanser exhibit will also be of prime interest to every housewife.

Then the Soda Fountain Supplies will be a wonderful exhibit for many who may not know that they are drinking Soda Water made from the fruits and syrups prepared by Armour & Company.

Attend this interesting educational exhibit. We want to greet you—feeling that it is a duty you owe to your table, your health, to learn all about the perfect manufacturing methods employed by Armour & Company.

Beautiful Hair Do You Want It?

You Can Surely Have It by Using Parisian Sage

Who does not love a beautiful head of hair? You may think it is a gift, that some women are born that way. The fact is, beautiful hair is largely a matter of cultivation, just as you would water the plants in your garden and fertilize the soil.

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation which the hair and scalp readily absorbs. It removes dandruff at once. It puts a stop to itching scalp and makes your whole head feel better—as if your hair had had a square meal.

One application will astonish you—it will double the beauty of the hair. If used daily for a week you will be simply delighted with the result—you will want to tell all your friends that you have discovered Parisian Sage. You should see the number of enthusiastic letters we receive from delighted users.

All doubts settled at one stroke—your money back if you want it.

Parisian Sage is a tea-colored liquid—not sticky or greasy—delicately perfumed, that comes in a fifty cents bottle. The "Girl with the Auburn Hair" in the package. Get a bottle today—always keep it where you can use it daily.

Sold by Robt. R. Bellamy and at drug and toilet counters everywhere.

MODERN LIFE HARD ON THE STOMACH

Modern reforms have benefited nearly every worker except the Stomach. Its tasks have rather been made harder by our hurried meals, unseasonable eating, over-tempting sweets.

Stomachs not naturally strong become deranged and require aid to regain their rightful state.

is a Stomach Remedy compounded to meet modern needs.

By its use, without quitting the daily work or adopting an irksome diet, the patient supplies just the required aid and his digestive powers are brought back to vigor.

Its discovery is due to Dr. Ramon Saiz de Carlos, an eminent European physician and pharmacist. It is taken as a pleasant beverage after meals, a teaspoonful in a half glass of water. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

..Theatrical..

"The Red Rose" will be the offering at the Academy next Saturday, matinee and night, with the chic little comic opera prima donna, Zoe Barnett, at its head. John C. Fisher, whose lavish production of "Florodora," "The Silver Slipper," "Babes in the Woods" and other musical comedy successes of the past decade, are well known, is sponsor for the present attraction.

"The Red Rose" tells a love story of the bond which draws Lola, an apparently penniless model of the studios, to Dick Lorimer, only son of an American millionaire captain of industry. Misunderstandings and parental opposition part the lovers, but true love reunites them in the end. Through the action of the story, with its pathos, comedy, music, runs a riot of colorful gowning, scenic investiture and careful staging. The first act shows the studio of Julian, a painting master of Paris; the second, the baronial estate of Lola's father, and the the third, the Ball of the Four Arts, given by the students of Paris' Bohemia.

In Miss Barnett's support are many players known in comic opera circles, the cast including Louis Casavant, Bly Brown, Maurice Darcy, Russell Lennon, Wayne Nunn, William H. Cronley, Charles Clear, Charlotte Philbrick, Laura Jaffray, David Reese and Walter L. Catlett. The chorus numbers some thirty-five members and is said to be unusually attractive. Mr. Fisher is said to have employed the greatest care in the selection of his company and the mounting of the production, which has been on a lavish scale.

The sale of seats opens at Plummer's Thursday morning, and there will, no doubt, be a rush for seats.

At the Grand Next Week.

The new week at the Grand Theatre will open with an exceptionally great offering in the pictures, a big three-reel special feature entitled "Nobility", a colored film by the Pathe people. "'Tis only noble to be good" is the theme of this three-reel film. A French duke secretly marries a dancer, and is subsequently ostracised by his family. His wife later has an opportunity to prove that nobility of heart is above nobility of birth, and because the duke's sister profits by the dancer's sacrifice, the mother forgives. The picture is one of the strongest dramatic offerings in years and it will be appreciated by all patrons of the Grand.

Harry Harris will have for his song, "I'll Sit Right on the Moon and Keep My Eyes on You." This is an illustrated song and one of the best in Harris' repertoire. Be sure to hear it and the always delightful music by the Grand orchestra.

At the Bijou.

Headed by one of those intensely dramatic, stirringly gripping and most fascinating of all film subjects, the Bijou will offer a wonderful bill tomorrow, to inaugurate one of the best weeks in its entire history. And tomorrow's bill will make a swell opener and should not be missed. In addition to the films, there will be plenty of comfort (the Bijou is freely and hygienically ventilated) and new music. The great star photoplay is Lubin's "Women of the Desert", and it is a fiery, exciting, gripping film all the way through. "A Shower of Slippers" is the main fun film and it is the merriest bunch of laughs that the big Lubin company has yet picked. It is a refined, wholesome story that will tickle the ribs. Among the other swell film features tomorrow is an exceptionally clever Pathe Weekly, and this one, in detailing current events, will transport the onlooker all over the country. So don't miss tomorrow's Bijou bill and remember the tiny price, 5 cents, always remains.

BURGAW COMENCEMENT

Exercises During Past Week—Fine Address by Mr. Brinson

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., April 19.—With the passing of the years, the commencement of the Burgaw school gets to be more and more the event of the year, in Burgaw. This was fully proven the past week, when the exercises of commencement began on Thursday evening, and were concluded Friday evening. Every available inch of space in the large auditorium was taken up Thursday evening to hear and witness the performance given by the children of the lower grades. These exercises were intensely interesting and showed very careful training on the part of the teachers. The singing and drills were very fine and the "Visit to Grandma," a play in which a large number of the little ones took part, as well as the operetta which concluded the performance, were all remarkably well rendered. While all the children did exceptionally well, it is doing no one an injustice to refer especially to the part of Grandma, by little Miss Isabelle Paddison, as having been particularly well rendered.

Friday morning there was a welcome song by the Senior Class girls, followed by announcement of the winners of the prizes, offered annually by citizens of the town, after which these prizes were presented by Prof. Fisher in a few words of commendation and advice.

Following the presentations, the event of the day came with the address by Hon. S. M. Brinson, who was introduced by C. E. McCullen, Esq., of the local bar. From the introductory remarks by Mr. McCullen the audience was led to believe it was going to have a literary treat and they were not disappointed. Mr. Brinson is a forceful and eloquent speaker and he held the undivided attention of his audience while he sought to show the very great importance of our educated citizenship. He showed that the future of our country depended on the character and intelligence of the citizens of the future, of which the children of today are to be a part. He advised the inculcation of patriotic principles in the school room, and the practice of morality in all the walks of life. His parting injunction to the graduating class was especially fine and should make a deep and lasting impression on them. Burgaw has had some distinguished men to deliver the commencement address in the past, but it is safe to say none of them has excelled Mr. Brinson.

Friday evening the exercises consisted of a debate, the usual exercises of the graduating class and declamations. The following were the declaimers: McNair Johnson, Gordon Paddison, Manly Peele and Graham Barden.

The boys acquitted themselves well in this contest and the judges awarded the prize to Manly Peele.

Strawberries are moving forward by express every day and the carload shipments will probably begin next week.——Friends of Mr. H. McL. Green in Pender are delighted to know that he is to be Wilmington's postmaster.

Mrs. Bertha Lucas and son, David, of Currie, attended the commencement. Mr. Lucas' daughter was a member of the graduating class. Mrs. Seth Smith, of Whiteville, also was a visitor to commencement. Another visitor Friday evening was Mr. Geo. F. Lucas, of Wilmington.

Mr. J. R. Paddison, of Mt. Airy, arrived Saturday on a visit to his brother, Mr. A. H. Paddison.——Dr. R. J. Williams, of Rocky Point, attended the commencement Friday evening, his son, R. J., Jr., being one of the graduating class.——Mr. C. C. Branch, cashier of the Bank of Pender, made a visit to Norfolk during the week.

A MOTHER'S DUTY.

She Should Teach Girls How to Do Housework.

The old profession of home-making has not lost vogue. Rather it has of late been given a new impetus. But it is not all plain sailing. Wherein lies the trouble? It lies in the fallacy of thinking that while book-keepers, teachers, and librarians require special instruction along the particular line each has chosen, any girl can become a successful housewife though she scarcely knows the name and use of ordinary kitchen utensils, says a writer for the Woman's Magazine.

She is left to guess at methods of work until she stumbles upon the correct ones; or she is told to trust to her judgment when she has not been given the slightest opportunity to exercise it beforehand!

In justice to the girl herself, be it said that she is not wholly to blame for this deplorable state of affairs. How often is she discouraged in the attempt to add to her fund of practical knowledge by receiving an impatient answer from her mother in this wise: "Oh, I can do it in half the time it will take to show you! You don't know where things belong, and I can't have everything upset. Wait till you have a home of your own."

Not for a moment does the older woman realize how grossly unfair she is to her daughter. It may be contended, many of our young men of marriageable age expect to employ one or two maids to take the domestic burdens from the wife's shoulders. Such are exceptional cases, for statistics have shown that the great majority of women throughout our country do their own housework.

But even if the greater number of newly married couples were financially able to indulge in servants, this would constitute no argument against our girls being proficient in housekeeping matters.

In the first place, the opportunity to give sound, practical, housewifely knowledge to daughters belongs primarily to the mother.

Hers has been a valuable experience covering a period of years, and who is better able to pass on this accumulated wisdom than she? It may, and probably will, require patience, careful oversight and continual effort. It is a duty she owes her girls.

Those who are at work in the office or schoolroom will, of coures, have less opportunity for practical work than the stay-at-home daughters, but Saturdays, holidays and vacations may be utilized in giving them an insigat into the household machinery.

Most girls are domestic at heart, and the home tasks will appeal to them if the mother goes about her teaching, systematically and interestedly. It is a good plan for her to throw the girls upon their own resources occasionally.

Leave them, let us say, for a week at a time, to meet every problem of the household. They will thank you for it later on.

The domestic courses in our high schools and colleges constitute another source from which girls may study home-making. These have been multiplying with rapidity the last few years. The best of them combine theory and practise.

Girls will find in the attractive, readable books on household subjects that are being published today a source of help and inspiration.

One good way to supplement this reading is to cull practical helps from the household magazines from month to month. These can be preserved in good condition if pasted in scrap books. Then the bride can start in her new life with ready reference books at hand.

EDUCATION IN SOUTH.

Robert C. Ogden Re-Elected President at Richmond, Va., Friday.

Richmond, Va., April 18.—Robert C. Ogden, of New York, was re-elected president of the Conference for Education in the South at the closing session tonight, despite his telegram urging that he be retired to the ranks of the organization. Walter H. Page, ambassador to Great Britain, declined to serve again as vice-president, in view of the fact that he is to spend the next four years abroad, and Frank R. Chambers, of New York, was elected to succeed him. Dr. S. C. Mitchell, of South Carolina, was elected second vice-president, this being a newly created office.

William A. Blair, of North Carolina, as treasurer, and A. P. Bourland, of Washington, as executive secretary, succeed themselves. The following executive committee was named:

H. W. Laird, Alabama; George B. Cook, Arkansas; A. A. Murphree, Florida; Harry Hodgson, Georgia; M. O. Hughes, Kentucky; J. B. Aswell, Louisiana; Joseph Cook, Mississippi; J. Y. Joyner, North Carolina; Clarence H. Poe, North Carolina; Thomas F. Parker, South Carolina; S. P. Brooks, Texas; J. H. Kirkland, Tennessee; H. B. Frissell, Virginia; M. B. Shawkey, West Virginia.

DAVIDSON NEWS NOTES.

Y. M. C. A. Elects Officers—Boarding House—League Baseball.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Davidson, N. C., April 18.—At the regular weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last night, officers were elected as follows: President, Charles L. King, Porterdale, Ga.; vice president, John R. McGregor, Dillon, S. C.; secretary, James C. Harper, Lenoir, N. C.; treasurer, Francis W. Price, Nanking, China; assistant treasurer, E. McD. Reynolds, Wilmington.

These officers will be installed towards the close of the present term, and will enter upon their duties next September, when college opens.

During the year that is now coming to a close, the Y. M. C. A. has been led along a successful path with Mr. W. S. Golden, of Taladega, Ala., as its able president.

One of the greatest things that the Association has done, possibly the greatest, during the past year is the support of a missionary in Japan. A Mr. Parker, who graduated here, went out last year as a teacher and has been supported entirely by the student body through the Y. M. C. A.

The "Boarding House League" was organized yesterday, and the first game of the season was played between the Robson and White House, Robson losing by a score of 13 to 0.

Dr. F. R. Bergius, the scientist who has been conducting experiments in producting artificial coal, has, by employing a high temperature and a high pressure, changed cellulose to peat in a few hours. The same change by the process employed by nature, he states required 7,000,000 years.

DOG MOURNS MORGAN

Collie Was Gift of Financier—Is of Pedigreed Stock.

(New York Sun)

Jack, the collie that helps Shepherd James Conway take care of the city's flock of sheep in Central Park wore a mourning band on black crepe about his neck yesterday out of respect to the memory of his former owner, J. Pierpont Morgan, who gave the dog to the shepherd 11 years ago.

Jack comes of a pedigreed ancestry with more blue ribbons and other tokens of merit than fall to the lot of the average dog. He was a year old when Mr. Morgan sent him to the park.

Twelve years is a good age for a dog and Jack is losing some of his teeth, mostly because of the candy and sweets fed to him by women and children. There are 63 lambs in the flock which was turned out upon the green a few days ago for the first time this year and the youngsters often leave the grazing ewes for a gambol upon the drive, heedless of the passing automobiles.

At such times the shepherd whistles to the collie and calls out: "Bring 'em in, boy," and the dog sends them scampering back.

Shepherd Conway celebrated the 54th anniversary of his appointment in the park department yesterday. It was on April 11, 1859, that Park Commissioner Hogg made him one of the force of men at work in creating what is now Central Park. He worked as a laborer for a time, then when the city purchased a few wild animals he became a keeper in the menagerie.

Thirty-eight years ago the city bought its first flock of sheep and Conway was made the shepherd. He has been such ever since.

ON THE FREE LIST.

(Robertus Love, in New York Sun.)

Fresh air is on the free list.
As it has been from the start;
It's food for all the tissues,
And it's fuel for the heart;
There's been no tax on ozone
Far back as I remember;
It comes and goes where'er it blows
In June as in December.
And yet, alas! full many folk
Put up a solid wall
Against admittance of the air
That's free for each and all.

Sunshine is on the free list, too,
As always from the first
Glad morn when, out of chaos night,
Its full refulgence burst;
It pays no tariff duties
When it enters from the east
To spread for all America
A healthful, wholesome feast.
Yet there are many persons who
To shut it out are prone,
Along with its twin medicine,
Marked: "Passed—U. S.; Ozone."

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel for Sore Feet. Acts Right Off.

Send at Once for Free Trial Package.

'ore Feet? Never After Using TIZ.

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, calluses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. Mrs. F. J. Androcks, Jamaica, Long Island, found this out. She says: "I tried so many different remedies but none seem to draw out the inflammation and poisons like TIZ has done for me. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and calluses. You'll feel like a new person.

Remember thousands of other people have experimented with substitutes for TIZ without getting relief until they used the genuine. So when anyone asks you to experiment tell him you won't be the goat—you want the genuine TIZ.

TIZ is for sale at all drug stores, department and general stores at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. For a free trial package write today to Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Another Side of the Issue

The undersigned organizations, composed of leading men in every sphere of business, moral and philanthropic enterprise in this community, actuated by no motive whatever other than the highest interests of this community, feel that the present situation calls for the following statement from them in the line of the activity which they have shown for the uplift and cleansing of the city government during the past two years.

From time to time, in connection with the various candidacies for Mayor, the statement has been made that the city is facing a crisis in its affairs. If we grant this to be true, we must insist that the crisis is moral, rather than financial—a question of assured continuation of the present established policy of a rigid enforcement of law, rather than of the liquidation of debts incurred at the command of the people.

Political capital is being sought out of alleged conditions of the city finances, and statements most misleading are being freely made.

A floating indebtedness is an incident common to most city governments, and especially in progressive communities, and the city's present financial condition is about normal when assets are taken into account. The city has a larger floating debt than usual only because it has greater assets to show for the debt.

It must be remembered that the present administration had virtually to create a new plant, such as street improvement, implements, and facilities, enlarged efficiency of the police and fire departments, and a larger equipment all around for greater municipal undertakings. In a commercial enterprise debts which are offset by assets, so far from indicating weakness, stand for progress.

In the matter of the city tax rate, the advance of 40 cents on the $100 worth of property is accounted for to the extent of 37 1-2 cents by provision for bonds. The public voted these bonds, and the administration in good faith has provided for them in the only possible way—by increasing the tax rate. The people knew that the tax rate would have to be increased when they voted the bonds, and nothing is unfairer than to charge upon the administration an increase in tax rate made necessary by the people's own choice.

Nevertheless, the situation demands the services of an experienced man for Mayor, and in our judgment B. C. MOORE MEETS EVERY REQUIREMENT OF THE SITUATION.

Mr. Moore is in the strictest sense a successful man. He began his business life in Wilmington as a clerk, and beginning with nothing he has built up a profitable business out of his own resources, and as the result of his own natural abilities. As an evidence of his recognized ability he is a director in one of the leading banks of the city. That he is in a position of financial independence bespeakes the character of the man's business qualifications, and the unparalleled excellence of his administration of the Department of Public Safety has shown a capacity for organization and administration which promises success in a larger field. A man's business qualifications are better measured by the success of his undertakings than by the extent of his operations. By this standard, every great pioneer in financial enterprise in this country today is measured, and by this measurements Mr. Moore has been a decided success.

But beyond being a man of experience, and above everything else, the Mayor under our amended charter must be a man whose record gives unimpeachable assurance of his fidelity to law enforcement. The law will not execute itself. Passive willingness to see it enforced when and where an outraged public sentiment demands its enforcement will not preserve law and order. Unceasing, untiring aggressive initiative is needed, if this community is to preserve its present high state of efficiency in the administration and execution of law and order. The times demand more than promises—we ask for records.

And the record of B. C. Moore in the matter of law enforcement and intelligent and aggressive initiative, under conditions and circumstances almost without parallel in this community, is not a subject of dispute. He stands as the embodiment of efficiency in the administration of his department during the past year.

A public man's character can often be read more accurately through his opponents than by the character of his supporters. We honor B. C. Moore for the enemies he has made. And upon his record we appeal to an enlightened and virtuous public sentiment for support.

Six months ago the conditions in crime in this community were intolerable; today, this city is a wholesome example to the State and the whole country, and is felt to be so as evidenced by the constant appeals from all over the country for information as to how it has been done.

To B. C. MOORE more than to any other one man, is due this change for the better. But the work is not done yet; we cannot afford to let slip what has been done; we cannot afford to exchange a certainty for an experiment. All the conditions demand the service of a man whose "WILL DO" is interpreted by his "HAS DONE."

HOME HEALTH CLUB

By Dr. David H. Reeder, Chicago, Illinois.

Precaution: Part 1. A young man has just passed out of my office with the sentence of death upon him. He wrote to me about 18 months ago and I advised him what to do. Neighbors advised him not to follow my advice. They told him that he was needlessly alarmed.

He was young and strong, could do a big day's work, was prosperous and if he should get sick it would then be time to go to a doctor. His case was at that time simple and would easily have yielded to simple home treatment; swollen glands in the neck, a tendency to tubercular glands. He did nothing, they grew worse and three months later he again talked the matter over with neighbors and consulted a local doctor. He was advised to go to a city 300 miles away and have the swollen glands cut out, this he did. A big hospital bill and a bigger surgeon's fee, traveling expenses and other expenses took a large part of his ready money, but the swollen glands were gone and he rapidly grew stronger, working in the open all Fall. Then came the cold, stormy days of Winter and he did not know of the vital importance of fresh air.

To keep warm he practically sealed himself up in a small house and with nothing to do but keep the fire going he soon found that glands on the other side of his neck were swelling. Then he caught cold one fine warm day when he went out for a walk and cough developed, and still the neighbors advised him against the simple home treatment that might have saved his life. At last he grew desperate and without consulting the neighbors traveled 700 miles to have me personally tell him what the disease was and what to do.

Too late, he is in the last stages of the great white plague and if he should survive for six months it will be almost a miracle.

So many people are afraid to go to the doctor for fear he will tell them that they have a certain disease. They prefer to cheat themselves as long as possible, thinking that they are saving a doctor's bill, when as a matter of fact, just a little treatment of the right kind and at the right time might save almost endless suffering and even life itself.

How I pitied that young man and how helpless and impotent I felt. Men of science are battling day by day to wrest from nature the cure for consumption and they will succeed, but they cannot save the people from the disease unless the people themselves are willing to be saved and will do their part in prevention. No serum, drug or system of treatment will ever be developed that can equal prevention.

Club Notes

I will gladly answer all inquiries for information on health subjects from readers of this publication if same are addressed to Home Health Club, 5039 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago. Send full name and address with 4 cents postage.

Dear Doctor: Certain parties are advertising to cure rupture by injecting paraffin to seal it up. Are they quacks? It does not seem reasonable that a film of paraffin can hold a rupture. Still possibly, it may be some safeguard against strangulation. Please tell us through the paper what you think of the plan. G. H. H.

The plan of treating rupture by injection of paraffin into the tissue around the opening in the abdomen wall is not considered by good authorities, to be either safe ar effective. It may hold for a time, but cannot be depended upon for permanent results, as in many cases the paraffin has to be removed afterward. If it will not hold the rupture, it certainly can be no safeguard against strangulation. A good truss is much safer, cheaper and more likely to be of benefit than any such treatment.

Dear Doctor: Kindly inform me if there is any cure for lateral curvature of the spine. State the effects of this condition and whether if left untreated, it will tend to improve of itself, or get worse instead of better?

Miss E. W.

If treatment is begun before the bones and cartilages are permanently solidified in their unnatural forms, a course of physical exercises suitably arranged for the particular case and conscientiously practiced for a year or more, will improve the condition greatly, and possibly correct it entirely. Osteopathic treatments will help but you must yourself do most of the work. A horizontal bar would be one of the pieces of apparatus required for the practicing of these exercises. Such curvatures interfere with the breathing on the side which is compressed and predispose the lung to disease. It will certainly not get better, but rather tend to become more pronounced if neglected.

Dear Doctor: One of the first of the Home Health Club articles that I read contained a reference to a man suffering from rheumatoid Arthritis and the opinion was stated that in all probability the condition of the teeth had a great deal to do with the onset of the disease. I was particularly interested in this, as I have been a sufferer from this condition myself and I remembered when I read this that I had myself neglected to properly care for my teeth as I should have done. After reading that article I have been very careful to keep them in good condition and my rheumatism is much better. Being much encouraged by the improvement obtained, I am writing you a detailed account of myself to see if there is anything more you could suggest, as I have paid hundreds of dollars and didn't receive as much benefit from it as I did from that short article. Mrs. M. W.

It is often the case that chronic forms of auto intoxication of the type resembling what is known as rheumatoid Arthritis, are due to infections of the system with poisons absorbed from decaying teeth. Sometimes the tonsils are the seat of such a chronic infection and they should also be carefully examined and any disorder corrected. I am very much pleased indeed to learn you have derived so much benefit simply from following the suggestion given in the article which you read and shall be glad to give you by direct correspondence details regarding proper dietetic and hygienic regulations for the relief of your present condition, as space does not allow me to do it here.

Tell It To Your Neighbors

If you are one of those fortunate women who have found relief through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, from the dreadful suffering incident to some female derangement, tell of it to your neighbor whom you hear complain of dreadful backache, bearing down pains, dizziness, headaches, irregularities, nervousness and despondency, and when she finds relief in nature's remedy for woman's ills, as thousands of other women have, she will bless you for telling her about it.

"TEJAS TOMMY" FOR CAUSE.

Belasco Theater Audience Entertained in Support of Suffrage.

(New York Sun.)

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle would have danced all afternoon if those at the suffrage benefit at the Belasco had had their way yesterday. As it was they obliged with four graceful adaptations of the Texas tommy, the grapevine and the tango.

William Norris, as stage manager, also was popular, especially when he appeared as auctioneer of James Montgomery Flagg's three-minute portraits of Mrs. Castle, Miss Doris Keane and Miss Buttit. Under his urging Miss Margery Benton Cooke "dashed on" and told what Baumgarten thought about suffrage: "The good Lord put the women here and we got to give 'em room!" Edgar Ward also managed to work "the cause" into his three amusing darky songs.

Sudermann's "Faraway Princess" had been hailed as a comedy the only one he ever wrote, but it ended with a tragic little note when the princess offered her student adorer an artificial rose with the assurance that make believe sentiment was the only sort that lasts. But the poet refused he rose and kep his dream.

Mr. Margaret Howe, wife of President Wilson's nephew, was especially charming as Rose, the little waitress

The plunge into the last act of 'Madame X" after the cabaret made the audience gasp. William Elliott has grown a trifle portly in his two years of managership, but he has lost none of the force with which he first played the young son advocate, Jane Cowl made a most appealing Madame X, and the audience wept with her all through the last part of the act.

The theater was decorated with suffrage banners and many of the most prominent members of the various suffrage organizations were in the capacity audience.

NO HAZING AT ACADEMY.

Secretary Daniels Reads Riot Act to Midshipmen at Annapolis.

Washington, April 17.—With the announcement of his approval of the sentence of the court which dismissed Midshipman James C. Cook from the Naval Academy, for hazing, Secretary Daniels sent a letter to every midshipman at Annapolis, warning him that hereafter no leniency would be shown hazers who in addition to being dismissed would receive the additional penalty of imprisonment as provided by law.

"The sentence of confinement would be justified in Cook's case," said Secretary Daniels, "but as I have not had an opportunity to issue a warning before, I have let the sentence stand at dismissal. Your hazer is essentially a bully and must necessarily have a streak of innate cruelty. The United States navy has no place for youths of this kind.

"I take this opportuity of saying that this senseless and dangerous practice will not be tolerated at an educational institution founded upon and supported by the government. Future manifestations of such character at the Naval Academy will meet with rigorous action.

Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a quick and reliable remedy for lameness in horses and other farm animals.

"Sloan's Liniment surpasses anything on earth for lameness in horses and other horse ailments. I would not sleep without it in my stable."—MARTIN DOYLE, 432 West 19th St., New York City.

Good for Swelling and Abscess.

MR. H. M. GIBBS, of Lawrence, Kan., R. F. D., No. 3, writes:—"I had a mare with an abscess on her neck and one 50c. bottle of Sloan's Liniment entirely cured her. I keep it all the time for galls and small swellings and for everything about the stock."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is a quick and safe remedy for hog cholera.

Governor of Georgia uses Sloan's Liniment for Hog Cholera.

"I heard Gov. Brown (who is quite a farmer) say that he had never lost a hog from cholera and that his remedy always was a tablespoonful of Sloan's Liniment in a gallon of slops, decreasing the dose as the animal improved. Last month Gov. Brown and myself were at the Agricultural College building and in the discussion of the ravages of the disease, Gov. Brown gave the remedy named as unfailing." "OBSERVER." THE WEEK'S NEWS IN BRIEF

Important Happenings, Day by Day, Compiled and Republished for the Benefit of the Busy Man and the Week-End Reader—New York Markets for Each Day of the Six.

SUNDAY.

Former Senator John Brooks Henderson, of Missouri, author of the 13th amendment to the constitution, died last night in a Washington hospital.

Proposed anti-Japanese legislation in California is giving much concern at Washington, lest something be undertaken that is in violation of treaty obligations with the Japanese nation.

Due to an overtaxing of his strength and disregard of physicians' admonitions, the Pope suffered another relapse yesterday and while his condition is not serious, the greatest caution is necessary to his restoration to health.

The Democrats of the House yesterday refused to interfere with the programme of the President and the Democratic Ways and Means Committee on the sugar tariff and the schedule in compromise form was accepted by an overwhelming vote.

New York markets: Money on call nominal, no loans, time loans steady; 60 days 4 3-4 per cent.; 90 days 4 3-4 to 5; six months 4 3-4; prime mercantile paper 5 1-2 to 6; sterling exchange weaker. Flour quiet. Wheat, spot steady, No. 2 red 1.12 1-2. Corn steady. Rosin and turpentine steady.

TUESDAY.

The Pope yesterday was much better from his second relapse and his attending physicians say now that there is no immediate danger.

The funeral of J. P. Morgan was conducted with imposing ceremonies in New York yesterday and the body later laid to rest in the family cemetery at Hartford, Conn.

The political strike in Belgium began quietly yesterday and at nightfall, it was estimated that 200,000 workmen were out in the country. Industries are practically paralyzed.

The House Democratic caucus yesterday declined to put cattle and sheep on the free list and to reduce the duty on hogs, preferring to stand by the original report of the Ways and Means Committee.

Crazed by jealousy, a well-to-do young farmer of Wayne county, went to the hospital in Goldsboro yesterday and shot to death, Mrs. Lomax, a milliner, of that city; then attempted to commit suicide by blowing his own brains out.

New York markets: Money on call steady, 3 to 3 1-4 per cent.; ruling rate 3 1-4; closing bid 3; offered at 3 1-4. Flour steady. Wheat steady; No. 2 red 1.12 1-2 and 1.14. Corn firm. Spot cotton closed quiet, middling uplands 12.40. Rosin quiet. Turpentine unsettled.

WEDNESDAY.

The Pope's condition again yesterday became critical and the gravest fears are again entertained that the aged pontiff will not survive his present attack.

The anti-alien land law in the California Legislature is giving concern in Washington and President Wilson and the Japanese minister are endeavoring to reach an amicable settlement of the controversy.

It is announced that in addition to three million for equipment, the Seaboard will spend two and a half millions for improving its system, including double tracking between Raleigh and Hamlet.

The political strike in Belgium continued yesterday with estimates ranging from 200,000 to 400,000 as the number of workmen who are out; the strike is being principally felt in the industrial centers.

Democrats in House caucus continued consideration of the tariff bill yesterday; such slow progress is being made, however, that it is doubtful if the measure will be ready by May 1st for the Senate as had been expected.

President Wilson sent in another batch of nominations to the Senate yesterday; Postmaster General Burles gave out a statement in which he stated merit and not politics would prevail in appointments in the post-office service.

New York markets: Money on call steady 2 1-4 to 3 1-4 per cent, ruling rate 3 1-4, closing bid 2 3-4, offered at 3; flour lower, wheat easy No. 2 red 1.12 1-2 to 1.14, corn firm 62 12; spot cotton closed quiet, middling uplands 12.40; rosin quiet, turpentine steady.

THURSDAY

The Pope's condition yesterday was considered much improved, though not yet regarded out of danger.

Chas. R. Crane conferred yesterday with President Wilson and probably will be appointed ambassador to Russia.

Delegates from many States are attending the Conference for Education in the South at Richmond, Walter H. Page presiding in the absence of Robt. C. Ogden.

Brazil having complied with the agreement as to disposition of coffee held in New York under the valorization scheme, the suit under the anti-trust law was dismissed yesterday by the Department of Justice.

President Wilson yesterday withdrew his acceptance of the resignation of Willis L. Moore, chief of the Weather Bureau service, and he was dismissed for alleged irregularities in pushing his campaign for Commissioner of Agriculture.

The House Democratic caucus yesterday decided to remain by the Ways and Means report on the cotton and wool tariff schedules; President Wilson was sharply criticised by some Western members for interfering with the legislative functions of government.

New York markets: Money on call, steady 2 1-2 to 3 per cent, ruling rate 3, closing bid 2 1-2, offered at 3; flour steady; wheat firm, No. 2 red 1.12 1-2 to 1.14, corn barely steady, 62 1-4; spot cotton quiet, middling uplands 12.40, turpentine steady, rosin dull.

FRIDAY.

There was no appreciable change in the condition of Pope Pius yesterday.

Representative Wilson made a number of appointments yesterday, mostly in the diplomatic service.

The situation is tense in Mexico; it is believed the overthrow of the Huerta government is very near.

Farms and farm life were the chief topics of discussion at the Conference for education in the South at Richmond yesterday.

The political strike in Belgium appears stationary; the government refuses to yield while the Socialists and Liberals are arrayed in the fight.

The Daughters of the Revolution after the second ballot yesterday were unable to select a president-general with the three candidates in the field.

It develops that the anti-alien law proposed in California differs little from that in force in other States, but it is hoped through Washington to avoid international complications.

"Young Kid" Carter, a devotee of the prize ring, confessed to a number of murders upon being convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of a bartender in Boston yesterday.

Representative Pou, of North Carolina, introduced a bill in Congress yesterday to investigate the civil service to know why 80 per cent of the employes in that service are of one political party.

An army balloon collapsed and fell 650 feet near Paris yesterday almost instantly killing four officers and a civilian pilot; two aeronauts of the Greek army were killed in a similar accident near Saloniki.

Republicans at Washington are lining up for the attack on the Democratic tariff; meantime, the House Democrats in caucus and the Senate Finance Committee are going ahead with the Underwood bill to be later reported and passed in both Houses.

New York markets: Flour steady. Wheat firm; No. 2 red 1.12 1-2 to 1-14. Corn firm. Money on call easier 2 1-2 to 3 per cent.; ruling rate 2 3-4; closing bid 2 3-4; offered at 2 7-8. Spot cotton quiet, middling uplands 12.40. Rosin and turpentine quiet.

SATURDAY

The general condition of the Pope is progressing favorably; three days now he has been without fever.

At the suggestion of President Wilson, Congressman H. L. Godwin yesterday recommended H. McL. Green to be postmaster at Wilmington.

Robert C. Ogden was re-elected president of the Conference for Education in the South at Richmond yesterday.

Mrs. Story, of New York, head of the conservative faction, was yesterday elected president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Washington.

The administration at Washington is not indifferent to the situation with reference to the California anti-alien law, but doubt is expressed if any Federal action can be taken until the courts have passed on the measure.

Satisfactory progress was made on the tariff measure by the Democrats yesterday and the measure will be ready for introduction in the House by next Wednesday; no changes were made yesterday in the committee recommendations.

Speaker Clark and Wm. J. Bryan have buried the hatchet and yesterday shook hands and made friends for the first time since the Baltimore convention at a private luncheon in Washington. Each issued a statement, pledging friendship and success for the party.

New York markets: Money on call steady 2 1-2 to 2 3-4 per cent; ruling rate 2 3-4 per cent, closing bid, 2 1-2, offered at 2 3-4; flour firmer; wheat, spot firm No. 2 red 1.14 1-2 and 1.16; corn spot, firm; spot cotton quiet, middling uplands 12.25; rosin quiet, turpentine steady.

MINING FOR MINERALS

More Hazardous Than Digging for Gold, Says Official.

Washington, April 15.—Contrary to general belief, mining for gold, silver, copper, iron and other metals is a more hazardous occupation in the United States than digging for coal. With great disasters occurring at intervals in the coal mines and killing 100 or more men at a time, the impression has prevailed that no other branch of the industry contained so much danger and such a high rate of fatalities, but the United States Bureau of Mines comes forth with the statement that the metal mines in 1911 killed more than four men in every 1,000 employed, to be exact, 4.19, while the death rate in the coal mines for the same year was 3.73 in every 1,000 men. The greater proportion of deaths in the metal mines is all the more striking when it is understood that in the metal mines there is an entire absence of the gas and dust that cause explosions in coal mines.

The bureau also makes the statement that the American death rate in the metal mines is only exceeded by three other countries, Mexico, Peru and the Transvaal. It compares this country's record of 4.19 men killed in every 1,000 employed with Great Britain's record of 1.64; Germany's of 1.29, and France 3.16.

This is the first time in the history of the United States that any attempt has been made to show the relative degree of danger in the metal mines. The statistics just issued show that 165,979 men were employed in these mines and that 695 were killed. The men seriously injured numbered 4,169, or 25 in every 1,000 employed, and the men slightly injured, 22,408, or 133 in every 1,000 employed.

In addition, 297 women were made widows and 600 children were left fatherless.

Albert H. Fay, mining engineer of the bureau who collected the statistics gives as one reason for the greater death rate in metal mining the fact that the majority of States have established systematic coal mine inspection, which tends to reduce the accidents, while in many of the States where metal mining is carried on there is no inspection whatever.

"On account of the large disasters that occur in the coal mines," says Mr. Fay, "and the prominence given to them by the newspapers, coal mining is usually considered more hazardous than metal mining. The metal mines as a rule do not claim their death toll in disasters that involve many men."

The statistics gathered by the bureau show that in the copper mines, more than five men were killed in every 1,000 men; in the iron mines, more than four were killed in every 1,000; in the lead and zinc mines the death rate was nearly three and one-half men, and in the miscellaneous metal mines, the death rate was nearly four.

The number of deaths of miners in certain States was as follows: Arizona, 70; California, 38; Colorado, 43; Idaho, 23; Michigan, 134; Minnesota, 76; Missouri, 38; Montana, 62; Nevada, 50; New Jersey, 23; and Utah, 49.

The death in the metal mines added to those in the coal mines makes a total of 3,414 men killed during 1911 in mining, or 3.81 in every 1,000 employed.

THEY MARRIED SISTERS.

The Story of Tom and Joe—Two Means to An End.

Twenty years ago, two brothers had a double wedding—married two sisters.

After they returned from their wedding trip the subject of taking out fraternal insurance was frequently put to the benedicts.

At frequent intervals the Royal Arcanum as a reliable and safe insurance society was freely discussed, but the expenses incidental to marriage delayed the applications. In the course of a year there came to the homes of Tom and Joe two little strangers, only a week apart, and both of the gender whereby it would at no time be necessary to change their names. You can imagine the joy of the young fathers when their friends congratulated them. There seemed to be an inch or more added to their height and many inches of importance—and properly so, because the first-born is the second happy event in a man's life. Yes, they were going to take some protection for mothers and babes.

Tom, who was a bookkeeper, at a salary of $100 per month, was advised by his employers by all means to take out a 20-year endowment policy for as much as he could afford to carry. That at the end of 20 years he would be handed a lump sum of money that would enable him to purchase a home. Tom took out a $3,000 policy, the sum and dividends to be his at the expiration of 20 years.

Joe was a mechanic at a good salary of $20 per week. He decided to make application to the Royal Arcanum, as he could not see his way clear to carry an endowment policy. He was taken into one of the progressive Councils of the Order for $3,000. Joe reasoned to himself "if anything should happen me I have as much insurance to leave as Tom has." Joe's wife suggested that they could carry ten shares of Building and Loan stock—$10 per month—par value $2,000, and at the end of 11 or 12 years they would have that much toward the purchase of a little home. Joe turned to his wife, Sarah, "It's up to you. If you think you can spare it, all right." "Well, Joe, if you don't get into worse habits than you have now, we can afford it from your earnings. It will only be $12.50 a month, Building and Loan and Arcanum." In due time Joe drew $2,000 from the Building and Loan Association, his ten shares having matured. He bought a handsome little home for $3,500; gave a mortgage of $1,500; took out ten more shares of Building and Loan stock—the interest on his mortgage and taxes, $21 per month, only $3 per month more than his former rent. Joe will have his additional $20,00 from Building and Loan, and then will have his home paid for and $500 to his credit. The interest on $500 will almost keep his Arcanum certificate paid up.

Let us examine how Tom fared with his endowment 5 per cent., 20-year Gold Debenture Bond (Old Line Co.,) of $3,000. Cost at Tom's age, 28 years. $66.25 per $1,000—on $3,000, $198.75 per annum, for 20 years, $3,975 less premiums earned and to his credit, $900, net cost $3,075 for $3,000. Tom at this time has $3,000 in cash, no insurance. Joe will have in about three more year, $4,000, that is, a house worth $3,500, $500 in cash and $3,000 insurance in the Royal Arcanum.

DUNN SCHOOLS PROSPEROUS.

Bonds Voted—Commencement Exercises—Town Election Held.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., April 18.—The bond issue for construction of the addition to the graded school building carried by a large majority on Tuesday. The work had already been done and the addition dedicated. The school board having faith in the citizenship to vote the necessary tax to pay for same, had borrowed money and the building has been in use all this session.

The position of principal of the Dunn graded schools seem to be very much sought after, Prof. Gentry having resigned there are a great many applicants for the place.

The primary for the nomination of the city fathers for next year was held yesterday, and a large vote was polled as the question of a sewerage system for the town to be constructed this Summer will have to be handled by the next administration. There was a three-cornered fight for mayor, and a second primary will have to be held next Monday. Mr. Marvin Wade received the largest vote, but will have to contest with Mr. J. L. Hines, who got the next highest. W. R. Howard, P. H. Lynch, J. D. Barnes and James A. Taylor were the successful candidates for commissioners. The nomination means election as the Republicans do not even put out a ticket.

The commencement exercises of the Dunn graded school will be held on Wednesday and Thuarsday night, May 14th and 15th. The programme will begin Wednesday night with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. McD. White, of Raleigh. Class day exercises will be held Thursday afternoon, and on Thursday night ex-Governor Thos. J. Jarvis will deliver the commencement address in the town hall. The school has closed the most successful year in its history. And the patrons are very much gratified with the success of the principal and his corps of teachers.

SHORT TALKS COMMENDED.

By This Means President Wilson Will Earn Public Gratitude.

(The New York Sun.)

It is an "address" then and not a "message," that Mr. Wilson, going back to Federalist precedent, will make today. Will this be to "the convenience of the Legislature, to the economy of their time," as Jefferson said? If it conduces to brevity, if it lessens the interminable flood of words under which the ideas of Presidents perish, if not merly today but whenever he has anything to say to Congress, he will be humanely short. Mr. Wilson's renaissance of the custom of Washington and Adams will be useful. Whether "address" or "message, speech or writing, the manner is only leather and prunella. The thing is to let everybody in Congress and out see just what the President recommends. This "address" does not bind Mr. Wilson, it is to be assumed to other personal appearances. He can still resort to messages, regular as well as special. But if he sticks to short "addresses" he will earn the public gratitude; and the man who boats that he has read a President's message will no longer be regarded as an impudent longbowman.

Big Sales—Frequent Shipments Explain Wonderful Freshness of French Market Coffee!

No grocer can buy too large a stock of this coffee. As a matter of fact, no dealer "keeps" French Market Coffee, but sells it at once and, because of the wonderful demand for this coffee and the frequent shipments he receives, his stock is always fresh. That's why you are always sure French Market Coffee is the freshest and finest flavored coffee any dealer sells.

There is never any chance of your getting old coffee if you avoid imitations by insisting on having the genuine French Market Coffee.

Sometimes your dealer will try to sell you slow-selling coffees, grown old and flavorless from standing on the shelves. Protect yourself—insist on having the genuine French Market Coffee.

The Story of the Old French Market and Its Wonderful Coffee

The old French Market, in New Orleans, has been there for over 100 years. It is a long, low building with open sides, filled with stalls, from which are sold meats, vegetables, dry goods and miscellaneous articles. It is typically French for, even now, English is hardly spoken there, for the buyers, like the sellers, are mostly of French, Spanish or Creole descent.

Scattered through the building are little counters, at which coffee and lunch are sold at almost any hour of the day or night. Even before Spain sold Louisiana to France, when coffee as a beverage was unknown in many parts of America, French coffee, in all its exquisite perfection, was served at the old French Market; no stranger ever visited New Orleans without sipping this marvelous blend. Andrew Jackson and his victorious soldiers camped near the Market for rest and refreshment. The pirate, La Fitte, came there; Henry Clay was entertained near-by at the old Hotel Royal; while, during the war, thousands of soldiers passing through New Orleans, drank French Market Coffee, and spread its fame throughout America.

Not until the invention of a remarkable hermetically sealed can and the establishment of the French Market Mills, equipped with special machinery, could this wonderful blend be shipped, with all its delightful flavor retained, outside the city. Today the wonderful machinery in the French Market Mills reproduces exactly the famous roast and blend, and as a consequence French Market Coffee has become the National Drink of the South.

The ships on which the choicest growth of coffees come to America are unloaded directly at the docks at the French Market Mills, avoiding transportation in freight cars in cold climates. This makes a great difference in flavor. And the old secret process of roasting and blending, though taking longer than that of ordinary mills, produces an exquisite flavor entirely different from that of ordinary coffees.

The completion of the French Market Mills—and the shipping of this wonderful blend throughout the South—has been recognized everywhere as one of the greatest commercial achievements in many years.

HALL FOR REUNION.

Veterans to be Well Taken Care of at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 19.—Some of the cities where Confederate reunions have been held in the past, experienced trouble in securing a hall large enough to accommodate in comfort the reunion ball, the crowning social event of the meeting. Chattanooga has hit upon a novel plan to meet this requirement. It has been decided to cover something less than an acre of ground in Warner Park, the largest public park in the city, with a tent, floors to be of smooth and substantial material, the tent lighted by electricity, and give the reunion ball there.

This tent will accommodate thousands of people and be perfect as a dancing pavilion. No posts will interfere with the dancers. It will be a model pavilion, large enough to meet every possible demand. The entertainment committee feels that this solution of the problem will be appreciated by the visitors.

Warner Park is centrally located, and can be reached by trolley cars and automobiles in ten minutes from the business sections of Chattanooga. From the center of the residential section of the city the park can be reached in five minutes.

Hyomei Relieves In Five Minutes

Help Comes Quickly When Hyomei Is Used for Catarrh

Quick relief comes from the Hyomei treatment for catarrh and all troubles of the breathing organs such as stopped-up head, sniffles or morning choking. Put a few drops of liquid Hyomei in the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and before you have used the treatment five minutes you will notice relief from your catarrhal troubles.

It gives a tonic healing effect to the air you breathe, kills the catarrhal germs, stops the poisonous secretions, soothes the irritated mucous membrane and makes a marked improvement in the general health.

Hyomei is not a cure-all; it has but one aim, the relief of catarrh and diseases of the breathing organs. When there is no catarrh, the general health is improved, for then nature has a chance to build up the entire system.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, loss of strength, spasmodic coughing and feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest, or any other symptoms of catarrh, use Hyomei at once. It will destroy the disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and give a quick and permanent relief.

Hyomei does not contain cocaine or any habit-forming drug. The complete outfit costs $1.00, extra bottles if later needed, 50 cents.—Robt. R. Bellamy and all druggists.

NEW YORK AND TURKEY TROT

City Tackles Dancing Problem—Suffragettes May Declare Boycott. Safe and Sane Day—Diet on Herring—Gossip.

New York, April 19.—Not in decades has New York seethed so wildly as it is now doing over the question of dancing. Incredible as it may seem to outsiders this question with a very great number of people throughout the city, people of every class, is overshadowing everything else.

Compared to it the income tax is a side issue and the tariff a matter of little importance. For New York is in the midst of a great turkey trot war. To a very much lesser degree this has spread to some other parts of the country. Here, however, the struggle has assumed tremendous proportions, which it is believed only legislation at Albany can settle. There are many who believe that even this will be inadequate. The average New Yorker apparently believes that his right to dance when he pleases, where he pleases, and particularly how he pleases, is guaranteed under the constitution, or if it is not, should be. The mayor's recent order closing at 1 o'clock places at which New York is accustomed to dance caused a roar which could have been, and undoubtedly was heard at Albany. The few places which got around the order colned money and soon New Yorkers in their insatiable desire to dance caused open violations. Afternoon turkey trotting, even Sunday afternoon trotting flourishes, and New York is apparently dance mad. The announcement of the mayor that the ban would be put on certain kinds of dances evoked fresh howls of rage and derision and the battle waxed only fiercer. Passengers on incoming steamships report that the affair is assuming international importance since developments are eagerly followed abroad. There is no doubt of the seriousness of the situation, or its importance in the eyes of New Yorkers, though it is hard for an outsider to understand such a tempest in a teapot. But apparently to limit New Yorkers as to the quantity or quality of their dancing is the one thing they will not stand for, and the turkey trot battle is likely to go down in history as one of New York's fiercest.

New York is in a fair way soon to watch a real test of the strength of the suffrage movement, which, while it will not assume a militant form in the sense in which it is known in England, will be of far greater value in affording the actual strength of the movement. Upon it, the suffragettes claim, will depend the fate of the greatest avenue in America. The situation arises from the attempt of the merchants along Fifth avenue to have passed an ordinance forbidding parades on that thoroughfare which would of course, include suffrage parades. For many years now Fifth avenue has been the parade ground, but so rapidly have these parades increased, both in number and size, that the merchants complain that on many days the avenue is so congested as to make it extremely difficult for shoppers to get from one store to another. Accordingly they have asked that Fifth avenue be closed to paraders and some other street selected for their use. As parades along Fifth avenue attract more attention than they would anywhere else, however, the suffragettes are strongly opposed to any change. Accordingly they have taken defensive measures by announcing that if the ordinance is passed they will, to the number of something like 100,000 boycott Fifth avenue stores and in addition they will attempt to enlist the support of as many out-of-town suffragettes as possible. Undoubtedly to take 100,000 feminine shoppers from Fifth avenue would be a serious blow, but the question remains as to whether if the boycott is attempted allegiance to the suffrage movement would prove stronger than the lure of the great Fifth avenue shops. As there is no doubt that the great parades along the avenue do cause considerable inconvenience, the matter is likely to be strongly contested on both sides and the outcome watched with more than ordinary interest.

For weird and unusual forms of robbery, the year 1913 is already setting a record here. With organized taxicab robberies little more than a year old, they are already being looked upon as out of date and old-fashioned as compared to the strange methods which have sprung up since the first of the year. For instance, the city is now enjoying quite a little epidemic of a form believed to be absolutely new, known as "slipper snatching". Of course, footgear has been stolen ever since it was invented, but the novelty of the new form lies in the fact that the slipper or pump is appropriated by the thief from the foot of the wearer herself. While this might seem at first thought a difficult task it is not so hard after all, since only low shoes are snatched and these in the crush on the subway stairs which the wearer is ascending. It is really a simple matter for the thief to follow behind his victim, grab the slipper, pocket it and lose himself in the crowd before its owner realizes what has happened. Needless to say, the thefts are committed not for the pump itself, but for the valuable silver, gold or jeweled buckle which adorns it. The ancient hansom cab is another instrument for robbery which is gaining favor and the more decrepit the vehicle and horse the better its seems to work. Experts have attempted to explain this by saying that astute robbers realize the necessity of using some means which the police, grown suspicious of taxis and other automobiles, will disregard with contempt. Meanwhile it is worth while to note that old-fashioned forms of robbery have not become entirely obsolete since the records shows that since the first of the year 41 safes have been cracked in the city.

That in addition to the Fourth of July there are 365 other days in the year which might be made safer and saner, particularly as regards juvenile life, is the point now being raised here by William J. Sickel, a prominent steamship man in this city. Curiously enough, this point of view seems not to have occurred to any one before, at least so far as concrete legislative effort is concerned. In Mr. Sickel's case it came about through his son who while "playing Indian" lost one eye as the result of an injury inflicted by a bullets from an air gun. The boy is now in one of the city hospitals undergoing a comparatively rare operation known as delayed implantation, but this, while it will aid to restore the appearance of a normal eye, will not restore the sight, which is irrecoverably lost. Upon looking up the statistics covering accidents of this and other kinds happening to children as the result of air gun wounds, Mr. Sickel was so impressed that he decided to start a safe and sane everyday movement for the protection of other youngsters. "An intelligent American public has legislated against the explosives formerly used in Fourth of July celebrations," says he, "so that there are now no long lists of casualties on that day. There is hardly a progressive State in the Union that has not some restrictive law applying to the use of firearms and yet, with all our intelligent legislation, we have overlooked a dangerous toy to which we subject our innocent children, not one, but every day of the year." Already Mr. Sickel has been largely instrumental in the passage of an ordinance in New Jersey prohibiting the sale of air guns and hopes that in time similar results may be obtained in other States. Incidentally, it is pointed out that such a law should prove of more value than New York's law against firearms, which leaves the law-respecting citizen unprotected while the thug disregarding it goes unharmed.

A new secret of longevity has just been revealed here which, if followed should, according to its discoverer, enable any one to live to the ripe old age of 103 or possibly more. The method is simple. It consists merely of eating one herring every day. Other things may, of course, be eaten, but the one herring a day is his secret of old age. Curiously enough, the sponsor for this method, a well known Scotchman, who has just arrived here, is not a fisherman. Indeed, he admits that he never caught a fish, although he once tried to. He went out with the guides and sat in a boat and put his new line in the water. Very shortly now he would feel how they wiggle at the end of a line. He sat in the boat for a week. At the end of that time he felt a surreptitious nibble at his hook. Restraining his emotion he hauled on the line. There was a terrific wriggling. He continued to reel in. Anon the fish came into the boat. But when he looked at it again it wasn't a fish at all. It was an eel. He has that eel stuffed. In view of a fish story of such record breaking veracity, the longevity secret is likely to be received with more than ordinary respect.

LONGACRE.

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN.

Trolley Line Being Extended for Use of Vets at Reunion.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 19.—Work is being pushed with all possible speed on a new trolley line to the top of Lookout Mountain in order that it may be ready for the Confederate reunion May 27th to 29th. This road is being constructed at easy grade from the foot to the summit of the mountain, so that passengers may board a car in the city of Chattanooga and ride to the top of Lookout without change. The manager of the road, Mr. W. E. Boileau, promises that the new road will be practically completed by the date of the reunion. He is sure that it will be in operation to the historic Cravens house, if not to the top of the mountain.

When this road is completed it will be one of the most picturesque trolley lines in America. The incline railway up Lookout mountain is the heaviest grade in the world for an incline. Approaching the terminus of the line on top of the mountain, the grade is 36 per cent. The cars are drawn by steel cables. The power plant on top of the mountain is operated by electricity, the current being transmitted from the big electric power plant on the Ocoee river, 30 miles east of Chattanooga. This incline road is as safe as a modern elevator in an up-to-date skyscraper. No serious accident has ever occurred on the road, during a service of more than 25 years. The only trouble with this road is that in case of a large crowd, like a reunion assemblage, the capacity is inadequate. The new trolley line is intended to meet the demand for larger carrying capacity. With its completion, the carrying capacity of the mountain roads will be practically unlimited.

No visitor to Chattanooga should miss a trip to Lookout Mountain, as the view from its heights is unequalled anywhere in the country for sceneis grandeur.

DELIGHTFUL AT PINEHURST.

Perfect Days Contribute to Pleasure of Life at Resort.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Pinehurst, N. C., April 19.—Various affairs out of doors are claiming the attention of the largest company of April visitors in Pinehurst's history, to which perfect days are contributing an important part. Everywhere the "Village Beautiful" is yielding to the summons of Spring, the fragrant wisteria and exquisite Cherokee rose, queens among the wealth of blooms which sparkle on the rich background of shrub, bush and vine. Far into moolight nignts the mocking bird sings and ever and always one is conscious of nature's eternal symphony.

Mrs. J. V. Hurd, of Pittsburgh, and Henry C. Fownes, of Oakmont, were the winners of special mixed foursomes arranged by Mrs. C. S. Waterhouse, of New York, and Miss Myra B. Helmer, of Midlothian. Playing with a handicap of two, they scored 87, six strokes in the lead of four pairs who tied at 93.

Many are enjoying motor trips over roads which are always beckoning and ideal days are these for those who love the horse and the solitude of paths which swing from open to forest and from hill side to plain.

For the coming week the annual State Championship United States Revolver Association Shoot is scheduled. The week has brought a number of arrivals who come for the month.

WEATHER NOT TO BLAME.

It's Your Condition.

"This weather simply takes the life right out of me, I can hardly drag one foot after the other," said a run-down, tired-out woman the other day.

We want to say to every such person in this vicinity. Don't blame the weather, it's your condition. You need a strengthening tonic and the very best we know is Vinol, which is a combination of the two most world-famed tonics, namely, the medicinal, curative elements of cod liver oil and tonic iron, for the blood.

A case has just come to our attention from Vineland, N. J., Mrs. Allen T. Godfrey says: "I never fail to say a good word for Vinol, for it restored my strength and vigor after I had been in a badly run-down condition for several months. Every one who is broken in health ought to know that Vinol will build them up and make them strong."

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

This Should Keep The Baby Healthy

When It Is Ill Don't Become Alarmed But Give This Fine Laxative

FREDERICK MANUEL

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts."

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among who may be mentioned Mrs. Jennie Manuel, Altamont, Ill., who began to give her baby Frederick, Syrup Pepsin when he was six months old, and has used it ever since with gratifying results. She writes that Frederick was not growing well and threw up his food, but after a few days' use of Syrup Pepsin he was able to retain his food and gained rapidly in weight. Thousands of others are glad to say that Syrup Pepsin saved them many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly, when the first symptoms of illness were noticed, they prevented a serious ailment.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for 50 cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness, families should prefer it over all other medicines. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the sytem, and hence should be avoided.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regualr way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

TO THE VOTERS

As candidate for election as Councilman from the Fourth Ward, I respectfully call your attention to the following, as the basis upon which I intend to work, if elected:

I believe in law enforcement, and the exercise of such a degree of conservatism as is consistent with the proper maintenance and promotion of the interests of our people and city.

Along commercial lines; I believe that the city government should so far as possible, co-operate with our commercial organizations, with a view to securing the location here of manufacturing and other industries. Among the details of that feature, is the fact that through the proper channel, there should be placed before the public at large, and especially those who could be interested in locating here, our advantages by reason of the opening of the Panama canal. That with others are untold advantages. Let's let the world know about them. To succeed in interesting manufacturing capitalists, would not only benefit our labor, but the ultimate benefit in a great many ways is almost incalculable.

And, I believe that the interest of the taxpayer should be the guide of those entrusted with the City Government.

Valeska Suratt Is the Only Woman on the American Stage Who Wears No Puffs, "Rats" or Switches

Miss Suratt in Her $3,000 Black Velvet Costume Trimmed With Rhinestones

ONCE I knew a lady, "and a very nice lady was she," whose comb was always tangled with a mass of broken and dying hair after she had finished combing it. Of course, some hair will always come out on the comb or brush, but what I mean is that at every combing she drew out almost enough hair in a week to make a good-sized pin cushion.

If her hair had not been naturally rapid in its growth she would by this time be almost bald. She had to wear rats and puffs and switches, of course, as most women do, to make up for lack of hair. She tried nearly everything under the sun, and quit disgusted.

That "nice lady" was myself. Now this lady, very remarkable as this may seem to you, wears no rats, no puffs, no switches. She has enough hair to make it up in any way she likes in a few minutes, without having to have recourse to any of these subterfuges.

How do I do it? How did I stop my hair from falling out after having tried everything recommended by my friends and most of the treatments advertised? It flashed across my mind one day, when I noticed that the falling hair was greatly decreasing in quantity, that the cause of it was a certain head wash I had been using for some time. I at once experimented further, and found, what I have been able to prove since, is the most remarkable hair and scalp treatment I have ever used or heard of, and I have tried them nearly all.

Here it is: With a half-pint of water, mix half a pint of alcohol. To this add one ounce of beta-quinol. Shake thoroughly, and it will then be ready to use. If you prefer you can use imported bay rum instead of the water and alcohol.

The beta-quinol you can get at almost any drug store for not more than fifty cents. The ordinary prepared hair tonics which you buy in the stores usually cost you one dollar. But this Formula makes one full pint of the best hair grower and tonic one can ever hope to obtain.

The formula should be applied very freely on the scalp after brushing the scalp generously for a few minutes all over. Rub the tonic thoroughly into the scalp with the finger tips. This will surely stop your hair from falling out. You should notice the difference anyway in a week or ten days. After a while you should notice your hair beginning to take on new life. It will have a more silky appearance and will begin to grow so luxuriantly that it will be one of your greatest prides.

Mrs. ELLEN T. asks: "What can I do to get rid of pimples? I have had them for years, and no creams or lotions seem to do any good, in spite of the fact, too, that I am very careful what I eat."

The food you eat has really less to do with the presence of pimples than most people think. Besides, you can surely get rid of them without having to diet at all. If you will dissolve twelve ounces of granulated sugar in one-half pint of water, and add one ounce of sarsene and mix the whole together thoroughly, adding more water to make a pint, you will have one of the most splendid and effective pimple removers it is possible to obtain. Sarsene is a liquid which you can get at the drug store by the ounce. It makes a blood remedy which has an exceedingly wonderful purifying effect in a very short time. Take one or two teaspoonfuls of this mixture three or four times a day, with a little water, if desired.

You will, of course, appreciate the fact that I am giving you something which is absolutely safe in every respect.

You will find the difference in your face in short order. I have had many use this formula, and it has invariably done its work in brilliant fashion.

FLORA FRECKLES—I am surprised you should consent to use such a rank poison on your face. This combination is the main principle in most of the treatments sold for whitening the skin. It makes the skin rough, eats into the outer skin, and usually ruins all prospects of ever beautifying the complexion. Some time ago I gave my readers my secret for whitening the skin, which I believe you will say is really a marvel. It will at the same time make your face bloom like a rose, and as soft as velvet. I will repeat it here in a few words:

Boil half a pint of water. Add two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. Keep stirring, while adding one ounce of zintone, until it is all dissolved. Then let cool. If the cream is too thick to pour easily from a bottle, thin it down a little with more hot water. The cream will be white and satiny. After bathing in the morning, hold a wet hot towel to the face several times for several minutes. Rub this cream on the entire face, liberally. Let the cream dry on the face. Repeat this again at night. Any good druggist will sell you an ounce of zintone for about fifty cents.

CORA H.—Many women complain of red, rough hands. If you will read my instructions above to Flora Freckles you will surely see the result in a short time. This formula will whiten and soften the arms and hands most beautifully.

* * *

MISS ENGAGED—I have had a great many requests for the best hair remover. Next Sunday I will give you full details and the formula. I use it constantly. The results will surprise you.

* * *

FONDA—"What shall I do for wrinkled hands?" I am only 31 and they are a sight. Also for crow's feet."

This is one of my beauty formulas. I gave it some time ago, but will repeat it here:

In one-half pint of boiling water, pour two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. In a few minutes add two ounces of eptol and continue stirring until all is dissolved. At first it will look like jelly, then it will start to cream. When it does this, remove from the fire and stir constantly until cold. Keep in air-tight jar. You should be able to get eptol at any good drug store and it should not cost you more than fifty cents. This will last quite a while.

Apply this cream every morning with the tips of the fingers, after washing your face with very warm water and soap. Use very liberally. After you have applied it take up the flesh in your fingers, pinch it and roll it for a few minutes until the cream disappears. Then apply your complexion powder. This cream will not grow hair.

NAMELESS—You will find a remarkable difference in your scrawny neck and lack of bust development by using the following:

In a half pint of hot water, dissolve two ounces of ructone and half a cup of sugar, all well mixed together. Of this, take two teaspoonfuls three or four times a day in a wine glass of water, after your meals. I have found this to be a peculiar tonic, giving astonishing results in a few weeks' time. It will cost you one dollar at the drug store. It will do all you can ever ask of any treatment for this purpose. You will assist the development a great deal by massaging the bust with the eptol cream mentioned above.

EUNICE—If you will use the beta-quinol formula treatment given above on your eyebrows, you will find a decided result in a short time. It is a very powerful promoter of hair growth, the best I have ever known. It will do the work.

* * *

BARBARA T. N.—For blackheads, first wash the face with hot water and soap. Next sprinkle some neroxin generously upon a sponge made wet with hot water. Then rub well for a few minutes on the parts of the skin which are affected with blackheads. You should be able to secure the neroxin at any druggists's for fifty cents. You will find this formula very remarkable in results if used faithfully until all blackheads are gone.

MRS. O. N. S.—Superfluous hair on the face, hair in the arm-pits, and the small "fuzz" that spoils the cleanly, unblemished appearance of the faces of so many women, can be removed with the greatest ease without leaving the least mark or reddish spot.

Get at any good drug store one ounce of simple sulfo solution. It will cost you one dollar, but it will last you quite a while. Apply this solution freely with the finger tips on the hair you want removed. Keep the hair moist with it until it has actually dissolved. This will take but two or three minutes. Then wipe off with a warm, damp cloth and wash the skin with warm water.

"This Hair Formula Is the Best I Have Ever Known."

..By the Wayside..

The negro loves a court of law—from the outside—and every morning the section allotted to the colored people in the Recorder's court is about filled. If one of their race has done something particularly sensational, the S. O. R. sign comes forth. Comparatively few whites are to be seen except at big trials. And if a negro is accorded proper "support" from his audience, as an actor might say concerning the inspiration that comes from an appreciative house, he isn't so put out by being on the inside of the railing. It is a funny trait. Take that mob that gathered at the station the other day when the two Pollock negroes were brought back from Newbern. They gathered from everywhere and blocked the place. Yet the crime occurred last July, long enough for most people to have forgotten about it and lost interest in it. Yet the negro just had to be there. Somehow there is fascination for him in viewing one of his race in the clutches of the law.

A lot of chorus girls were going up Princess street to the Academy the other day, and the rubbernecks were on the job. One who has had occasion to observe the play people many a time and oft—in front of the footlights—remarked, "Did you ever notice how the show girls run to type? You may take any number of them and there are not more than two types in the lot. They all look alike."

An humble old negress, whose advent into the world occurred about war times, was climbing a steep flight of steps the other day, carrying two pitchers of water, which was part of her duties as a chambermaid; and she was humming, or, perhaps, crooning would be better, instead of grunting because of the steep, long steps and her load.

"Auntie, you seem to be happy and without care this morning," said a white man; "fact is, you usually appear that way."

"En I stays dat way, Boss," she replied.

"How do you manage it? What's the secret?" she was asked.

"Hit's de only way to stay," she said. "Dat's de way eve'y body ought to stay all de time."

"But how about it when you can't?"

"Dey een't no reason why you can't," she declared. "Jes' ask de Lawd, en He'll tend to you, fer He's de Good Man what can mek your heart light and your lips sing all de time."

Judge Justice, who recently held court here, is very fond of children and one day during court he confided to a gentleman that a pet scheme of his was to retire to a big house in the mountains and put all the loose children he could find in it, care for them and train them in the way they should go. The quality of mercy is not strained in a court of justice presided over by a man with that sort of a heart in him.

As a prolific breeder of trouble, the average church choir has all other trouble-making institutions and things beaten to a frazzle. One would think, very naturally, that the very fine work of singing praises to Almighty God, and thereby inspiring a congregation to be lifted up to commune with the skies, would effectually prevent jealousy, rivalry and ill-feeling among the singers and those who control the organ's thunderous roll or its clear, bird-like notes. But not so. Of course, certainly, no doubt, there are exceptions. There are no such choirs in this part of the country; there are several in Alaska, and perhaps on the far Pacific coast. In one instance of late rivalry between two young ladies, both capable musicians, has ended in driving a whole family away from the communion of the saints, although they were brought up in that church and have been members for many years. It is not nice to say it, but Hell is to play in a choir like that!

"My, My!" exclaimed a man of middle age, "just 'about the time a fellow begins to get used to living and to know how to live and really enjoy life, why his race is about run and death soon gets him."

"Yes, sir," replied a physician, also of about 50 years, "we are fools. If we only had the sense of the lower animals, we would live to be 100 years. That ought to be the individual's limit if the race would live properly and as God Almighty intended it to. You know, the lower animals all live four to six times as long as it takes them to reach maturity. Man lives about one and one-half times. We burn life at both ends and in the middle, and die like the grass, when if Nature's course were followed strictly, we would be in the full bloom of youth at the age where death now cuts us down."

The doctor in a time of trouble and the preacher in the hour of death are mighty good and much loved personages to all mankind, but in health, happiness and prosperity we denounce the shams and high prices and the moth-eaten creeds and outworn doctrines of both. It is the way of the world. The devil sick would be a saint, but well, devil of a saint is he. Human nature is a coward when its down and out.

* * *

An old newspaper man was pestered and worried and in a strain and had an attack of first one thing and another, until in exasperation he snapped out as "vigrus" as he well could, "I wisht I could git out of this dadblamed bizness and git into something else!"

There was a pause.

"But if I did, I'd git right back in it like an ole fool hoss running back into a burnin' stable!"

The illustration was so funny, and so patly true, that he laughed, and had company in his laughter; troubles fled before that laughter; peace reigned again, and the fascination of the flames pulled 'em back, deep into the most "cussed" and best loved jobs in the world.

* * *

Marvelous indeed is the transforming effect of candidacy for public office on the heart and mind and soul of man. The grouchiest old grouch that ever grouched becomes the most affable of men. The stingiest old stinge that ever sting-ed will buy you a coca-cola and a smoke. The man who was never known to stop you on the street and talk, will buttonhole you in the highways and with his glittering eye, put the Ancient Mariner to shame. Hardened sinners who haven't darkened the doors of a church in 20 years will be found in the amen corner listening with rapt interest to a dry-as-dust discourse by a returned missionary on the subject of the conditions all along the road to Mandalay. Men careless of their dress will wear their Sunday suits every day in the week and shave up constantly and keep their nails clean. Those who never exhibited the slightest interest in the progress and welfare of the com-munity suddenly become the staunchest friends of the public and the doughtiest warriors in the army of progress. And some have gone so deep into the transformation process that although they have hated babies all their lives, they will drop in at a voter's home, daddle the ugly, squalling infant, swear it is a beauty and the perfect image of the mother, and buss it smack on its slobbering mouth. It is beautiful to see the good in men thus come to the surface. It reminds one of the time when the brotherhood of man shall obtain o'er all the earth, when the peaceful earth shall slumber wrapt in universal law, goodwill and utter happiness. It also calls to mind the transitory nature of "religion" obtained at a shouting revival—fine while it lasts, but it don't last for long!

MERE MAN HAS INNINGS.

In a Body "He" Leaves Benefit During Suffrage Speech.

(New York Times.)

Opportunity for a real militant suffrage demonstration came last night at the Century Theater benefit for the Volunteer Fresh Air Fund and French Day Nursery. Mrs. James Lee Laidlaw was down on the program for a ten-minute suffrage speech, and there were a great many of her supporters in the theatre wearing their newest yellow ribbons. There were also a great many mere men there.

When the announcer called Mrs. Laidlaw's turn there was a spontaneous uprising in all parts of the house by the mere men. It was a literal uprising; the men, almost as if by a preconcerted signal, rising and marching up the aisle to the door. As the movement became general most of the audience, which did not care which way it went, began to laugh.

Then the suffragists started a counter-demonstration. Loud hissing came from some parts of the auditorium but the cooler heads among the "votes for women" contingent contented themselves with endeavoring to split their gloves in handclapping to encourage the speaker. It looked like London for a moment.

When the last mere man had left and the suffragists had calmed down and the wistful look had left the faces of the men who were there with their wives, Mrs. Laidlaw emerged and made what everybody said was a good speech. When she had fininshed the mere men filed back, the performance was resumed under the ordinary auspices, and everybody was happy.

Why Stand for Such Agony?

It is Entirely Unneccessary that Anyone Suffer with Boils, Carbuncles, Abscesses and Other Eruptive Sores.

Every spring a host of people are the picture of woe; they suffer the intense agony of carbuncles, boils, erysipelas and other extremely painful and often dangerous abscesses. All they require is to get the stagnation out of their blood with S. S. S.

Get Your Blood Purified With S. S. S. and You Won't be Tortured Like This.

This wonderful remedy works on the principle of stimulating cell growth, of enabling the blood to quickly infuse new life into the tissues, to stop decay, to prevent the formation of those accumulations of broken down cells that rapidly multiply into the form of carbuncles and other eruptions.

Science cannot explain just why certain elements in the blood feed the bones, others nourish the hair roots, and so on. And it is this same mysterious action of S. S. S. that attacks all diseased spots, drives away all germs, heals all sores and supplants the activity of disease germs with the powerful healing action of leucocytes. Remarkable testimonials have been written that prove beyond question there is no blood disease but what can be cured by S. S. S. And in all those cases that were treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic, copper and other minerals with no permanent effect, the most astonishing recoveries have been made by S. S. S.

There is not a blood taint of any nature that can remain in a system fortified by this most wonderful remedy, for it is absolutely pure and contains only those elements that the blood naturally assimilates, and which the tissues gratefully accept. It agrees with the most delicate stomach, even in those cases where the use of strong drugs has so weakened the digestive system that medicine cannot be given. Get a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store and thus be assured of a complete cure of any eruptive blood disease. Epitaph of the Common House Fly and How to Get Rid of Them.

(By S. A. M.)

A swarm of flies came buzzing by,
And soon a garbage can did spy,
Oh! my, they cried in flyish glee,
That filthy can looks good to me.
No place we've seen in all our flight,
As nice as this for us to light.
So down they flew as all flies will,
To the filthy can of slops and swill.
The can was sitting in the sun,
And Mrs. Blow-fly had begun.
You know it's Mrs. Blow-fly's way
To turn all things into decay.
And she had done herself real proud,
For this old can was smelling loud.
Of course, this helped attract attention,
The flies were holding a great convention.
Flies had gathered from miles around,
Large, small, black, green, yellow and brown.
The object of the meeting there,
Was to map out plans for the coming year.
The chairman, he spoke up and said,
He wasn't pleased with last year's dead.
He said that we must come to terms,
And try our best to scatter germs.
He warned them to be very shy,
Of the boys and girls, that "swat the fly."
Also, he thought 'twas awful mean,
For any one their house to screen.
He told of a paper on which flies stick,
But they were on to that old trick.
Now, these he said, are not so bad,
I've something else to tell real sad.
Men these days are very wise,
They know that germs are carried by flies.
They know that on our feet and legs,
Are millions and millions of germs and eggs.
They also know that flies can cause,
As many deaths as all the wars.
So they have made a preparation
That'll soon be spread throughout the Nation.
If all reports I hear be true,
I see the finish of me and you.
The stuff's a wonder—that is, men say,
Guaranteed to drive all flies away.
And everywhere it has been tried,
Flies and insects by the thousands died.
They say it's of a liquid kind,
Made "Down South" from the long leaf pine.
It's used in such a simple way,
Blown through the tube which causes a spray.
It penetrates the air so fast,
A few minutes only our lives can last.
Spring is here, it's time to work,
We want no drones, no one must shirk.
Now what we wish to do is plain,
To kill all the babies that we can.
But now and ever understand,
That it shall always be our plan,
To make ourselves as busy as bees,
To scatter every known disease.
The place for us to do our worst,
Is the nipple of the bottle that the babies nurse
And then it should be awful handy,
To crawl all over children's candy.
To do this thing successfully,
We must do it systematically.
Let's fly from here to the manure pile,
And crawl over it awhile;
From there we'll fly to the horse's stall,
And there we'll have another crawl.
When we finish with the horse's stable,
Then it's to the dining table.
And if they open a sick room door.
Make a dive for the cuspidor.
If you'll try and do just what I say,
Everything will be our way.
But talk is cheap, we're losing time,
Let's make our hay while the sun doth shine.
We'll start right now, to the house we'll fly,
Our motto, ever "TO DO OR DIE."
And so right there from that filthy can.
The 1913 season began.
They all went swarming to the house,
When they got there, things were as still as a mouse.
It seemed to them that from afar,
Came the faintest odor, the smell of Ta.
But this they did not mind at all,
Till by the hundreds they began to fall.
In a very few minutes, our story goes,
Every one of them turned up their toes.
This jingle is not idle jest,
Everyone should give this drug a test.
If it doesn't do just what we say,
We won't receive one cent of pay.
And on my word you can rely,
When I say it's death to every fly.

"Pittsburgh Perfect"

The Adaptable Fence — For Poultry and Garden Use

Among the 145 styles and sizes of "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence shown in our new catalogue, the fence user can now obtain fencing perfectly suited to his particular requirements. "Pittsburgh Perfect" is the most adaptable, portable, durable and resultful of all wire fences, and gives absolute satisfaction because, coupled with our ripened manufacturing experience, it is the culmination of close and exhaustive study and investigation of farmers' needs along lines of up-to-date poultry and agricultural methods and equipment.

Open Hearth Wire like old time iron wire is used exclusively in "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence and is heavily galvanized with pure zinc. All line and stay wires are at every contact point, which makes it unequaled for toughness, strength and economy in weight and price.

Every Rod Guaranteed Perfect.

THE NEW CATALOGUE contains valuable information about wire fencing, and illustrates styles and sizes adapted to every FIELD, FARM, RANCH, LAWN and POULTRY purpose.

In Wilmington's Most Fashionable Section

HAVING acquired this beautiful and well located square in Wilmington's most desirable residential section, D. R. Foster & Co. have sub-divided the same and are offering to the public a number of lots at such prices that no one interested in real estate, either from an investment or home standpoint, can afford to ignore this opportunity. Monday morning this property goes on the market at such extremely low prices, upon such fovorable terms, that it is safe to say the end of the week will find few of the lots left. Better get on the ground floor. See Foster about it at once.

Only a few months ago this agency sub-divided and sold the adjoining block at prices from $1,500 to $2,500 per lot. Lots in this section are uniformly desirable at more than double the amount. Five years from now values in this section will be such as to make prices now seem ridiculous. And remember, our terms are so you can make a small payment now and watch your investment double and triple while you make easy payments on the balance.

The time has come when our people are no longer satisfied with a mere lot just large enough to build on. The house alone DOES NOT answer the purpose. The lots which we are offering in this section are large enough to make a homesite with large yard, lawn, etc. A new granolithic sidewalk has been laid, shade trees have been planted, and no expense has been spared to make each lot a place for "The Home Ideal". We wish to impress upon your mind the fact that the price is right, and terms to suit can be arranged. Our automobiles are at your service, and we will be glad to show you
